

Outreach self improvement coach

Hello (name)

I was searching for a skincare routine since I noticed my skin was not looking as great as it could.

And I came across one of your older videos titled "Do this every morning to get clear skin".

So through that video, I discovered your channel and I have yet to look back really helped me with self-improvement and gave me a new angle on subjects I had no experience on.

And that's when I came across the book you published, to help men everywhere improve themselves.

But I know that so many other people would benefit from your teachings as I have.

So when I noticed that you don't have an Instagram account (or at least not one that easy to find)

I was really surprised because you could benefit so much by taking advantage of short-form socials like TikTok and Instagram just to get your name out there and gain a lot more online visibility.

So I thought I should give you a hand, so I chopped down some of your content and quotes into short-form content that you can post to TikTok and insta reels.

So what are you saying you want them?
