The Most Human Instinct

The human instinct
Morals, Politics, and Mindful melody

Breaking Boundaries
Taking chances
What has become of us?

Missing pieces
Having biases
What has become of humanity?

Showing others
Who We Are
and breaking hearts

Why judge
when you're no better?
Hypocrisy runs rampant
Breaking things
Breaking hearts

Why care about opinions?

Black and White
can't be right
Gray Exists!

Right and wrong?
Strikes as queer
Living lies

When robbed of conscience
Things are clear
But much ceases

Losing a grip
Saying quips
Straying afar

The people sing
In praises of all their lies
But none are deceived
The most human instinct
Is to protect

But protect what?

Our lives?
Other's Lives?
Animal's Lives?

The golden trumpets ring
Shaking me out of a daydream
I will never be the same

Should be glad
But kinda sad
That we are here

Ponder this
What is Life
What is strife?

We all exist
In some harmony
In a beautiful web of blame and shame
