

“His power might seem as false as any illusion, but his power is as real as him”

Name:tarren nighthowl (nickname:best illusionist (friends and sister).)

Species:human (power user)

Age:16

Status:alive

Destructive power:B

Durability:B

Speed:B

Intelligence:B

Ability tier:4.8 (elite tier)

Profile

Appearance:a teen with grey eyes (they glow misty blue when his power activates) and kinda spikey green hair, he wears a green t-shirt and black shorts with an oversized black jacket tied around his waist that goes down to his knees.

Personality:friendly yet serious, tarren is a very unique person as although he can seem like your typical serious elite tier who uses their powers against others weaker than them. in fact he doesn't really care about doing it and only really does it when pissed off as to him he shouldn't waste his time attacking someone who can't defend themselves (to him that doesn't make you strong, just a coward afraid to fight those at your level), he is very defensive if his sister and also friends and overall will not go easy on those who attack them or piss him off.

Powers/abilities

Tarren might seem normal but once his eyes glow and a misty blue aura surrounds him you'll see who he truly is, he's very good at both physical and weapon combat (minus more abstract weapons) and also video games although he won't actively say it he's good at gardening and caring for animals.

Near peak human condition

Although only near peak human, tarren is still pretty fit physically. Meaning he can certainly beat some people in a fight, and he's decently athletic which definitely can help.

“Hard illusions”

His special power, it allows tarren to create illusions via some kind of energy (unknown exactly, especially since it has seemingly no physical form so possibly it's light) he can even solidify the illusions to make them more physical and of course his illusions can affect all senses not just sight. His illusions can affect a very wide radius without any issue, he also can affect living beings able to cover them in illusions easily with his illusions even seeming very similar to reality.

Indomitable will

Tarren has a very strong will which keeps him moving forward and helping him push through challenges, this also is the reason he seems fearless because he stands by his willpower

Fighting style copying

A technique thanks to his photographic memory, tarren is able to replicate the fighting style of another which helps with countering others in combat. This makes him a difficult fighter allowing him to turn ones combat against themselves, although it was mostly taught to him by his father.

Origin

Tarren was never born “normal” he had a strong ability and had a sister who was born with a mid tier ability, he was supposed to dislike his sister but he never could and always found himself doing the opposite due to his sister's care for him. He turned against what most people act and decide to be his own, he'll help his sister and she'll help him together in this world.

Goals

- 1.help his sister in this harsh world (ongoing, so far succeeded)
- 2.become his schools jack so his sister can be protected easier (succeeded)
- 3.enjoy his life (ongoing, so far succeeded)

Quotes

“Kill? If i wanted to do that i would’ve done so already, now get up you’ve lost this fight.” -tarren during a turf war

“Defeated me? Buddy you never even touched me, in the end your blows always struck air....you just were unable to see it”

“People often mistake my power for creation, but that is merely a false illusion”

Feats

- 1.when he first accessed his power he covered an entire room in an illusion
- 2.overpowered 4 mid rank people at once
- 3.tricked someone whose power is literally that they have extremely good eyesight
- 4.thrown into a wall making it crack and then caught a punch as he stood up easily
- 5.fell down from a building (not an extremely tall one) and caught his fall with a solid illusion then managed to walk even with his damaged legs to someone to heal him.
- 6.outsmarted someone who could read thoughts

Battletrack (so far)

Muggers 23 wins, 1 lose

Mid tiers 4 wins

Elite tiers 8 wins, 2 lose

Kidnapper 2 wins

High tiers 3 lose

Relationships

Family (family)

Friends (friends)

The queen, king, and ace of his school (allies)

Low tiers (neutral)

Mid tiers (neutral)

High tiers (neutral, often hostile)

God tiers (unknown)

Cripples (neutral, pseudo positive)

EMBER (neutral)

Superheroes (neutral, mostly positive)

Limits

- 1.he is still mortal and can get sick or exhausted or even die
- 2.stronger foes can overpower him
- 3.those who can see through his illusions aren't that affected by them (minus solid ones)
- 4.he has a limit to how solid he can make an illusion directly on top of someone
- 5.his solid illusions have a limit to their durability and sharpness, the level of reinforced steel
- 6.indomitable will doesn't make him invincible, he'll just push through pain which can lead to mistakes
