I. INTRODUCTION

The Introduction part should contain at least five previous studies concerning the topic. At this point, the author should emphasize the urgency of the research, as well as the significance of the research. Authors also have to explore and combine some previous studies. It is important for readers to know the uniqueness, novelty, urgency, and significance of research. Most readers are non-native English speakers, therefore, authors should use a formal simple language, as well as, for international readers, authors also have to add and improve some global perspectives.

The introduction should be clear and provide the issue to be discussed in the manuscript. Before the objective, authors should provide an adequate background, and very short literature survey in order to record the existing solutions, to show which is the best of previous studies, to show the main limitation of the previous studies, to show what do you hope to achieve (to solve the limitation), and to show the scientific merit or novelties of the paper.

Citation should be in the footnote model. The Authors have to use Mendeley citation software, and the citation model should be Chicago Manual Style (Fullnote) automatically by Mendeley. The author should use at least 25 references (the latest in the past five years). The footnotes used in references in this journal are not only used as source credit for the reference, but it is highly recommended for the author to write some notes, arguments, or brief reviews in the footnotes. Thus, footnotes are not only limited to a reference source, but also notes from the author. At the end of the paragraph, the author(s) should end with a comment on the significance concerning identification of the issue and objective of the research.

Minimum length of manuscript is 6000 words including footnote (exclude abstract and references). All submitted manuscripts are read by the editorial staff. Those manuscripts evaluated by editors to be inappropriate to journal criteria are rejected promptly without external review. Manuscripts evaluated to be of potential interest to our readership are sent to double blind reviewers. The editors then make a decision based on the reviewer's recommendation from among several possibilities: rejected, require major revision, need minor revision, or accepted. The Editor-in-Chief of the UIR Law Review has the right to decide which manuscripts submitted to the journal should be published.

Submitted manuscripts will generally be reviewed by two or more experts who will be asked to evaluate whether the manuscript is scientifically sound and coherent, whether it duplicates already published work, and whether or not the manuscript is sufficiently clear for publication. The Editors will reach a decision based on these reports and, where necessary, they will consult with members of the Editorial Board. The author is responsible for the readability of the manuscript and all writing errors. In certain cases, the editor will ask for valid proof from the author that the manuscript has been checked through a professional proof-reader.

The method is written in descriptive form and should provide a statement regarding the methodology of the research. This method uses as much as possible to give an idea to the reader through the methods used. Both Research and Review Articles should explain the method. For the research article it is clear the method should describe the location of the study, the data collection method, and how the data were analyzed. Meanwhile, in the Review Article, the method is written descriptively regarding the topic being analyzed, what theories and laws are used to analyze the topic and the limitations of the study.

II. FIRST RESULT AND DISCUSSION (THE TITLE RESULT AND DISCUSSION SHOULD NOT BE USED)

This section is the most important section of your article. The analysis or results of the research should be clear and concise. The results should summarize (scientific) findings rather than providing data in great detail. Please highlight differences between your results or findings and the previous publications by other researchers.

A. First Sub-Title

Following main headings should be provided in the manuscript while preparing. Tables and Figures are presented center and cited in the manuscript. The figures should be clearly readable and at least have a resolution of 300 DPI (Dots Per Inch) for good printing quality. Table made with the open model (without the vertical lines) as shown below:

TABLE 1. Cross Tabulation

		Category Officer Level	Correctional Performance	Total
		Low	High
Level category leadership style	Low	1	1	2
		50%	50%	100%
	High	0	18	18
		0	100%	100%
Total		1	19	20
		5%	95%	100%

Sources: Authors, 2021 (edited)

Each table should be explained properly with standing argument and legal analysis.

III. CONCLUSION

Conclusion contains a description that should answer the objectives of research. Provide a clear and concise conclusion. Do not repeat the Abstract or simply describe the results of the research. Give a clear explanation regarding the possible application and/or suggestions related to the research findings.

REFERENCES

Please automatically insert bibliography. The direct and valid link for all web pages or online news should be provided. Laws and Regulation can be written separately and manually (if the author has difficulty writing down the source of the laws and regulations using Mendeley). The source of the laws and regulations must be accompanied by the source link of the laws and the number of the state gazette. For journal articles, it must be accompanied by a valid DOI link, or if there is no DOI, it must include a link to the intended article.
