

Weight of the World

Hey old friend, how's it going?
I haven't heard from you for so long
Hearing your voice is reassuring
But there's melancholy in your tone

I don't know what you've been through
I don't know what to say or what to do
But I'll be here for you
For you

The weight of the world on your shoulders
You don't have to carry them alone
When the fire in your heart gets colder
And solitude is all you've ever known
You stand so tall, but you don't have to be afraid to fall
Fall into my arms
Everything will be alright after all
After all, mmm

Hey old friend, how're you doing?
Have you got any scars in your heart that would not mend?
Did you ever feel that you were just living in a nightmare?
Did you ever wish that it would just end?

I don't know what you've been through
I don't know what to say or what to do
But I'll be here for you
For you

The weight of the world on your shoulders
You don't have to carry them alone
When the fire in your heart gets colder
And solitude is all you've ever known
You stand so tall, but you don't have to be afraid to fall
Fall into my arms
Everything will be alright after all

Oh woah
There's an end to everything in life
Your pain will have to say goodbye
The demons you faced

Will soon fade away
But I'll be here to stay

The weight of the world on your shoulders
You don't have to carry them alone
When the fire in your heart gets colder
And solitude is all you've ever known
You stand so tall, but you don't have to be afraid to fall
Fall into my arms
Everything will be alright after all

After all
Everything will be alright after all
