

Link to Videos

1. Self-Discipline & Purity: Message for the Online Youth

Rap music video - 5 minutes

By: Adam, Andrej, and David

Virtues: Purity, Self-Discipline

Abstract: Our project is about online youth; we wrote a song and made it into a virtuous rap to share our message. It highlights the virtues of self-discipline and purity. The song covers topics like online safety, protecting personal information and avoiding fake news. It tells kids to think before they post and to use social media for spreading positivity and truth. The video also shows the need to balance online and offline lives. Enjoy!

2. Kindness & Compassion: Reading a tone

Animation - 2 minutes

By: Barbora

Virtues: Kindness and Compassion

Abstract: This video is about kindness and compassion. It shows different ways to make sure people understand each other when behind a screen. It also talks about a very important skill of learning how to portray tone and also read tone through the screen. These ideas are from the perspective of a young person who grew up in this digital age and experienced a lot of confusion in this way.

3. Responsibility: How Screens Impact Children

Multimedia Project - 4 minutes

By: Amelia and Anna

Virtues: Responsibility

Abstract: This video is a message to youth our age on the impact of exposing younger children around us to screens. People our age often have to look after younger siblings, and cousins, babysitting and they often give them videos to watch to entertain them and to keep them quiet when they are crying, or once they need a break from childcare. That's a big issue, and in our 5-minute video, we'll show you why.

4. Perseverance: Tech and the Future of Learning

Multimedia Project - 10 minutes

By: Daria

Virtue: Perseverance

Abstract: This video is on the topic of learning new things with the use of digital technology. With reference to the history of education, and the industrial revolution in particular, this video will provide educational opportunities of digital technology in modern classrooms. Also, it includes statistical data made by the author of the video. This project was created by and is primarily from the perspective of younger youth and sharing their voices and opinions.

5. Resilience & Responsibility: Benefits of Being a Digital Citizen

Video - 4 minutes

By: Sofia and Veronika

Virtues: Resilience and Responsibility

Abstract: We are going to show you a 4-minute video that we filmed and acted in ourselves. It is about the benefits of being a digital citizen, what you can do, and how it can help you live an easier life. By "help you live an easier life," we don't mean constantly being online and carrying your electronics from room to room, but rather helping you, for example, communicate more quickly, or giving you ideas from around the world.

6. Moderation, Flexibility & Purposefulness: How to Work Purposefully by Utilising Digital and Non-Digital Tools

Video - 8 minutes

By: Sawa

Virtues: Flexibility, Moderation and Purposefulness

Abstract: We students work on many assignments on computers/laptops. So I often wondered if all assignments are going to be digital one day. In this video are some of my reflections I hope will be helpful to others. Overall, I believe it is important to have the options of platforms, digital or non-digital, so that we can choose which to use with flexibility, moderation and purposefulness, depending on the objective.

7. Truthfulness: Why Social Media is Fake

Animation - 2 minutes

By: Adela, Aneta and Lea

Virtue: Truthfulness

Abstract: People on social media often edit their photos before they post them online and how they can create an unhealthy and distorted view of the world. During this animation, through the voice of 'Truth' a positive character, we are trying to show the importance of the virtue of truthfulness by showing that not all that is online is totally an original photo. We feel that this topic really contributes to digital citizenship because it shows the truth that is very often missing on social media.