

The Nudger quotes on our fridge right now

- "I purposely chose to move to a Nudge city because I love this app so much" - Hailey, Denver Nudger (previously Seattle Nudger)
- "all the logistical heavy lifting is removed so that making an intricately planned evening is done with minimal effort. There is great attention to time sensitivity, personal interests, and alternative plans. What Wikipedia has done for the internet, The Nudge has done for my weekend." - Jon, NYC Nudger
- When I first heard about The Nudge, I felt like "oh my goodness, finally someone did it!" I think it's amazing that you're building a community and decentralizing access to spots and places to gather and things to do, it's incredible to help someone become comfortable in a new space. It's been a blessing - Hallie, SF Nudger
- This might sound silly but this app has quite literally changed my life. I moved to Washington a year ago, it's always been my dream, but of course moving during the middle of a pandemic probably wasn't the best idea. Even after things had started to open back up I just felt lost, I have been doing the same few things and I started to feel like I had made a mistake by moving up here because I just felt so blah all the time. I found out about the Nudge and now I cannot wait for the weekend to come. I am so excited about all the adventures and it's so wonderful that it's things I wouldn't necessarily have been able to just come across or find out by wandering aimlessly. So a huge thank you from the bottom of my heart!! - Seattle Nudger

Nudgers view us like a friend

- Nudge seems like your one really cool friend that is ALWAYS doing cool stuff. But Nudge is cooler, she tells you what she's doing BEFORE she's doing it (now FOMO free) and even better, prepares you for it. "You're going off the grid fam, download an offline map and here's how," or, "don't forget to check road conditions and here's a link where you can check them!" I'll even manage to not look like a PNW newbie with all the preparedness. So, Nudge, she's actually like your really, really savvy executive assistant that you pay only five bucks a month for. Netflix, you're cute and all but what have you DONE for me lately? (Besides a new season of, 'Love is Blind.') - Cass, Seattle & Couples Nudger
- I love The Nudge and have become a fast enthusiast for the brand. It's been such a fun way to help me and my husband get ideas for encountering Seattle as we're both new here (and has also validated a lot of what we like to do in the city already!). I really like how personal and approachable the tone of voice of the brand is, which makes receiving texts feel like getting a text from a friend instead of an invasive SMS promotion... It's been such a fun experience to be a user (and you've converted me into an official fan of your brand)! - Megan, Seattle Nudger

- Since my friends and I have been having such luck with your app, I decided to share it on my /travel slack channel for my coworkers who live both in and outside of NYC to test it out. I advertised it as your "pocket type-A friend" lol and apparently, it struck a chord with everyone because it really does function like that one friend who always has an itinerary planned out. -Elly, NYC Nudger
- The Nudge really makes me feel like I have a friend that totally understands how I'm feeling, and gives me that extra push to get out when all I want to do is stay in my jammies all day. - Anonymous Nudger
- I first learned about The Nudge as an NYU undergrad. From the moment I joined, I would religiously read the weekly plans and follow them with my friends. When I first moved to NYC, I was so overwhelmed by how big the city was and how much there was to do. I had no idea where to begin and didn't know any locals. The Nudge became my local friend. It made weekends so much less stressful and pushed me out of my comfort zone to explore places I never would have gone otherwise. - NYC Nudger
- I just absolutely love the vibe + the feeling of intimacy that your content brings on. You're the only brand that has access to me via text! And using the word "brand" or "service" feels disingenuous—I actually feel like I'm getting a text from a savvy, fun friend every week <3" - Val, NYC Nudger
- I really like the way this subscription gives you inspiration and motivation to get out of your house and try something different. For myself, I want to go out and do something, but half the battle is figuring out "what" to do. Nudge takes the pressure of having to figure it out off the table. It's almost like a friend is recommending a new place to you and you look forward to trying it out. - Elena, LA Nudger
- Think the way you pivoted having launched almost right before the pandemic, to still stay relevant, and act almost as a friend during a pretty loney time - has been genius. And I like that you maintain a hybrid of the modalities - out & about/adventures outside, looking inward and reflecting/productive time inside. - Anonymous Nudger
- I love the Nudge SO MUCH! It has been one of the beacons for me throughout this pandemic, especially in the beginning (I got in from the start). I found it to be comforting, when I needed some validation and comfort from the outside world and ever-changing landscape. I loved getting little Nudges here and there, with a reminder to go outside, or stay in, or show up for a marginalized community. Even now, I love getting Nudges, because it feels like I have a friend out there that's thinking of me, and wanting to send me tips, insights and goodies—curated to my choice and preference. I sometimes press multiple cities so that I can know all the cool inside places. All that's to say, the Nudge has been like a dear friend throughout Quarantine, and has provided me with a lot of comfort and I feel so honored to have taken part and seen it grow from day one. I still think it's relevant, because I often don't have the time to sift through and find what is happening out there in the world after being indoors for so long. - SF Nudger

- There's a lot to love about The Nudge. The tone and writing is excellent. The suggestions come at great times and are very creative. I don't really feel like it's been lacking in any way. I even love that I'm being communicated to through text so I can easily go back and look at past suggestions. - Nashville Nudger
- The minute I stumbled upon the concept on Instagram, I loved it. I'm often the planner in my friend group and it gets tough to come up with new, fresh ideas for outings that appeal to everyone, so I'm glad an app like The Nudge exists. - Radhika, Chicago Nudger

Such a great way to explore a city, whether you're new or have lived there all your life. The team behind The Nudge are relatable, approachable, and actually know what's new and interesting, so their recommendations feel fresh and not like a recycled listicle.

We moved from Nashville to Seattle last summer, not really knowing anyone in Seattle. In such a big city, with so many things to see, places to eat, and areas to explore, we didn't know where to start or who to ask for recommendations.

Downloading Nudge was a game changer for us. Now, when we want to do something but don't know where to start, my husband turns to me and says "What does the Nudge app suggest?" It's like having a friend in the city who knows all the great places to go, and they have an endless supply of options. I definitely think the Nudge Plus subscription is worth it. I have a whole library of things to do in Washington now. I even shared the app with my friends back in Nashville, since there is a Nashville version as well. Even after living there for 10+ years, they still find it so helpful! If you're stuck in a rut going to the same places or just don't have the mental energy to make plans, this is the app for you!

Nudge is the cool friend everyone needs in their life. Seriously, it's amazing. It gives you suggestions for things to do and has frankly helped revitalize my social life as the pandemic has begun to abate. Can't recommend it enough!

The nudge is such a fun concept— I love feeling like I have a secret planner friend in my pocket to tell me where the coolest haunts and hideaways in the city are. The nudge gets me out of my comfort zone and allows me to shake things up a bit with my partner and my friends! I'm also on couples nudge, and my partner and I love the weekly discussion prompts we've been getting! Definitely worth signing up! :)

I love my city and my state but there's always so much to do! It can get overwhelming but Nudge is the perfect salve. It's like having a team of besties scouting the best ways to spend the precious little time you have not working, so no weekend goes wasted! And the nudge plus is so worth it.

All you need is a little Nudge.

Absolutely love this app. During the pandemic I had lost my job and couldn't find much to do that was safe or involved social distancing. I found myself going on the same walks, just to get outta the house. The Nudge truly came in handy when I was stuck asking myself "what should I do this weekend". I signed up just to check it out, and instantly fell in love! They txt you creative ideas once a week and even welcome your feedback. I can tell it's a small friendly crew, probably locals, working hard behind the scene to make sure there are various fun activities to choose from. And although we can't save the txt messages, if I see something that interests me, I can always save it for later on the app. I really like the idea of having a planner in your pocket, because we all wanna see new sights or try new restaurants...but all we need is a little Nudge.

I signed up for it in LA because of your story and it's hands down the coolest thing I've found in months. I was like thinking through the business and how smart of an idea it was all the way on my drive home today lol 🤔

Nudgers trust us and find value in the detailed plans

- The Nudge is the greatest thing to come along since GPS. This took away allllll the legwork and gives me double the time to go explore. I knew that the majority of the people out there are just like me, either spending all of their time planning there is no time to do-or are new to Austin. I would have given anything to have something like this when I first moved here! - Samantha, ATX Nudger
- I think it really gives others the opportunity to go outside of their comfort zone and do things they might've not done before. I think a lot of people don't go out and try new things because of the planning aspect of how/what to do. This app/program eliminates that piece so that people don't have to put in the work. Instead all they have to do is go out and do it. I believe everyone should love this idea hence why I've been sharing it with everyone I know. - Sarah, Nudger
- Whether I'm meeting new friends, hosting out-of-town visitors, treating myself, or finding my new love interest for this season of my life—Nudge gives me a script so I can focus on being the main character. - Melina, Seattle & Couples Nudger
- What I love about Nudge is its dedication to delivering adventure to the doorstep. It reminds me of Beauty and the Beast, all Belle wanted was an adventure beyond her wildest imaginings, what she didn't realize was the adventure was actually right next door in her very own village. - Devon, Nudger
- Nudge has helped me come out of my shell so so much the past few months. I became a bit of an introvert over quarantine and then moved down to Texas not knowing anyone or anything. Downloaded the app out of curiosity (seemed too good to be true) and ended up finding some of my favorite places & activities. Yall really have a great service here, I can't thank you enough :) - Sarah, Dallas & 3 Min Journal Nudger
- I absolutely LOVE this app so much!  I love that the adventures are all planned out with destinations, maps, prepping, and even times to go. It has brought so much joy to mine and my hubby's life so far, with so many plans to get us out spending time together and learning new things! - Ariana, Nudger
- I've been living in Seattle for the past year and have done so many amazing activities from the Nudge recommendations like backpacking trips, camping, road trips, good restaurants, etc. I can't even begin to tell you how much of a difference this has made moving to a new city and not knowing what to do! - Kylie, Nudger

- Nudge is like my own production team and I am the Bachelorette. I know I'll have fun on a Nudge planned date. - Melina, Seattle & Couples Nudger
- I love the Nudge. I'm not naturally gifted in date planning, and Nudge events come in clutch 100% of the time, keep the variety flowing, and now that I'm in Nudge plus there are extra perks! - Tyler, Dallas & Couples Nudger
- I started off using the Nudge when I was single and it really helped improve my self love journey, taking myself out on dates & learning how to appreciate my own time and doing things that felt worthwhile. I'm forever grateful to The Nudge app and so Nudge Plus seemed like a no brainer! - Fathima, NYC Nudger
- I think this concept is a genius idea and super convenient. Myself as well as my friends often find ourselves doing endless google searches of things to do and this app helps alleviate that stress! - Inicia, Nudger
- One thing I like about Nudge is that it takes the stress away from me, I just show up and enjoy myself. It's as if someone brought me my movie tickets and popcorn and then just told me to sit back and watch the show. I can have an entire date night planned from a creative activity, to dinner, to a night under the stars just a few clicks away. - Lala, SF Nudger
- I'm a native New Yorker that joined Nudge Plus to have more to do! The Vault is packed with ideas. The Nudge is saving my NYC social life. - NYC Nudger
- I think I got hooked through an Instagram ad while I was going through my stories. I was immediately interested because it solved the problem that my friends and I always have... "Yeah, I'm free to hang but what are we gonna do?". The texts made it super convenient to create a plan with options without the trouble of planning & decision making. - Laurel, Chicago Nudger
- The Nudge is absolutely as valuable as it first was, if not more. I moved from Seattle to New York City last year and it's been so monumental in helping me do more than just brunch and go to bars :) you've helped me build a lot of memories. thank you for everything you do I love you guys so much! - NYC Nudger who moved from Seattle last year
- Nudge is genuinely wonderful; it really relieves the anxiety I have about planning and making decisions, and I'm very grateful for it! - Selena, NYC Nudger

- Nudge provides us with ideas and takes a lot of the effort away from us needing to research ideas for us to do together! - Tyler, LA & Couples program Nudger
- I love the level of detail the Nudge gives for each activity especially for day trips for wineries and/or hikes. It makes planning activities easier as I do not have to do additional research when it comes to looking for additional info like parking and food. - SF Nudger
- I joined Nudge because I love to frolic. However, I am an over-thinker, so when it comes to planning an adventurous day for myself or for me and my partner, I have NO IDEA where to start. So far, Nudge is making things much easier. - NYC Nudger
- This app is my passion. I suffer from terrible anxiety and depression and what brought me out of that was making plans to try new things consistently. I'll spend hours researching restaurants to try and hidden gems that most people don't know about. When I stumbled upon the app it made me light up with an excitement that I haven't had in a long time. - SF Nudger
- The Nudge keeps surprising me with things I haven't heard of before. Spreading the word about The Nudge with my DC social circle was a no-brainer. The ones who did join are always on the same page as me about what's going on and when. - Sarah, DC Nudger
- Nudge is honestly perfect. Like too-good-to-be-true perfect. I can't even remember how I heard about it, but it just came into my life mystically — and my weekends have never been the same since. Yay Nudge! You've honestly hit a home run. - Chris, Seattle Nudger
- I moved to the "Seattle" area (currently residing in Auburn) in January and The Nudge has helped me get so much more acquainted with Seattle - it's been a true #blessing to have this. My best friend who has lived in Seattle for a few years turned me onto The Nudge when I first moved up and we did a Maltby trip which was SO MUCH FUN - I felt alive again. It just helps to break any barriers to entry about trying new things, which I know a lot of folks with general anxiety (and pandemic anxiety) love knowing what they are getting themselves into before going; that's where The Nudge helps to eliminate any potential "scaries." - Seattle Nudger
- I'm a true believer in spending my hard earned cash money on experiences rather than things/stuff. I enjoy making valuable memories because I have a freakish brain that catalogs them in priority playback. I can recall a memory like pulling a DVD off a shelf & poppin that baby in. - Sam, SF Nudger

- I love it because it's not another social media app that's designed to make me addicted, watch ads all day long and buy things I don't need. I love you for that and that's why I've never considered to delete the app. - Anonymous Nudger
- I just love how it's pushed me to explore my new home—I moved to DC in September—and pointed me toward unique events & activities that I might not otherwise find (like DC's downtown holiday market and the boat parade at the Wharf). I bonded with a new friend here over our shared enjoyment of The Nudge; we sometimes text each other after receiving a Nudge about something cool we'd like to do. - Remy, DC Nudger

I signed up about a month ago and have probably done at least 5 things you guys sent me and loved each one. This service is awesome just wanted to throw out a thank you

1. Thank you so much for this app! It has brought so much joy to mine and my hubby's life so far, with so many plans to get us out spending time together and learning new things! - Ariana, Seattle Nudger
2. To be honest, I love love love everything about Nudge! If something is suggested that I'm not interested in, I can just ignore it. However, there are 9/10 things I am interested in doing and that's what makes it so amazing. You're literally saving my marriage! Thank you! - NYC Nudger

My go-to for date nights, weekend hangs, exploring new areas of San Francisco, and getting outside more often. My life (and Instagram feed) would be so boring without the Nudge. THANK YOU for working hard at curating plans so I don't have to.

As someone who is constantly seeking out new adventures, I love getting texts from the Nudge! They always provide unique and creative ways to explore the city/surrounding area either as a solo adventurer, with friends, or as a date night. The app provides a great place to keep track of your favorites, so you always have a repertoire to choose from. Love it!

I love using the Nudge for new ideas to explore my city! I live in San Francisco and often have a hard time breaking out of my neighborhood. The Nudge makes it easy to find new things to do and the app is super easy to use to save ideas and search for plans when I'm in the mood to do something fun.

I got this app over a year ago, and it has introduced me and my friends to so many cool spots in NYC. Some great memories have been made thanks to The Nudge's plans. Would highly recommend to anyone who likes finding new spots or needs reminders to plan things 😊

Fun and creative ideas

The Nudge is a great resource for recent transplants and long term residents alike to feel more connected to their city. You get constant fun ideas of things to do with no pressure or feeling of commitment. You can pick and choose what to do based on what time you have and what suits your interests. But it is great to know you have so many choices just waiting to be taken advantage of.

Nudgers feel part of a larger community

- Nudge feels like a community and when you move during a global health crisis—community is needed and welcome. - Anonymous Nudger
- The Nudge was the best part of our move and kept us so up to date on everything happening in Austin. Anytime that we couldn't think of something to do, we would check out our saved Nudge ideas and used most of them. We absolutely love the Nudge and cannot thank you enough for the incredible ideas of fun stuff to do around Austin. We didn't have many friends moving here, but because of y'all, we have made so many friends and love Austin. - ATX Nudger
- I've loved watching from the sidelines all the lives The Nudge is changing. Thank you for continuously teaching me to continuously find myself in the city I love most - ATX Nudger
- I remember the first Nudge event I attended was a 5K at Crissy Fields. I met three random girls and we all bonded over the fact that we had all been running for exercise, but it felt great to have support to keep going. We ended up chatting it up during the run and enjoyed beers and exchanged info after the event. We still keep in touch and have gone dancing, to see dueling pianos, attended each other's birthday parties, and supported each other virtually during the pandemic. This is what Nudge does. It builds community. - Kiki, SF Nudger

It's hard to get back into social anything after two years of quarantine but The Nudge is making it so much easier. All of the plans/guides are well thought out and super detailed. No brainer if you're trying to reconnect with friends, SO's, or anyone really.

Nudgers relied on The Nudge to help them stay sane during pandemic

- When the pandemic forced lockdowns in the Bay Area, it made me curious how The Nudge was going to continue to produce content that would keep Nudgers engaged and empower users to continue being their best selves. The Nudge has shown to be resilient and creative, providing users ways to be sane during quarantine, give back to the local community, and stay active! - SF Nudger
- As I've been a member over the past year and throughout COVID, the value of The Nudge in my life has only increased. As you know, COVID/quarantine has been a difficult time (how many times have we all heard/said that), but I thought The Nudge adapted amazingly well and continued to provide creative ways to safely stay entertained (both indoors and out). - Riley, Seattle Nudger
- I've really appreciated how The Nudge has pivoted over the last 8 months with the ever changing environment, especially with COVID-19, the police brutality protests, promoting awareness about racial injustice, and the election. The balance of "hey we know some of you need an escape, or an outlet, or a cause bigger than you, or a combo thereof" has been really nice and sometimes just the encouragement I need. I like being able to choose and opt in based on my energy or capacity to engage. I also really value and appreciate how the Nudges have encouraged safe pandemic practices while balancing fun and connection-sometimes that's with our friends, community, or just with nature and that's great! Even if I don't immediately act on these Nudges, I find them to be a positive reminder to try and find the hope or joy in whatever situation I'm navigating. Thank you and your team for continuing this work and all the creativity that you've put in thus far. It matters. If nothing else, you're making my days better and I am happy to be one of your supporters.

A lot of people have been asking how I got into candle making so i thought I'd share the simple story 😊 early into the pandemic in March 2020, I got a text from @nudgetext suggesting I try an activity to keep me busy. The options were either baking bread, or making candles. I chose candles because I always loved buying them, so why not try making them? It was such a calming experience during such an unpredictable time, so I wanted to keep doing it. I ordered more supplies, and started watching @memoryboxcandleco and @standleyhandcrafted YouTube videos.

Nirali, Seattle Nudger

So random, but The Nudge has been instrumental in saving us from going insane during this quarantine. We've hiked and made weird candles and meditated... all stuff we would never have considered. You guys had a brilliant idea- thank you!

I started using the Nudge last year during COVID and it really helped me cope with the stress. It kept me social and actively exploring NYC which I loved! Also I'm always down for hidden nooks and crannies in the city and the Nudge provided me with that. Some of the restaurants are now my favorite places to go to. The only area for improvement I notice would be to offer more solo adventures!

My partner and I have been relying on these date night suggestions throughout the pandemic and the app has made it so easy to find a date night that we would both enjoy and that fits the season and weather. Nudge finds the best locations and recipes for a unique date night that goes beyond dinner and a movie. 5/5 stars!

Nudgers do the things we recommend, so local businesses love The Nudge

- WOW! We cannot thank you + The Nudge enough. So many incredible + kind people came out to support. I'd love to see if there's a possibility of partnering quarterly? Happy to share numbers, as we had a few record days within the company this weekend. Thank you for trusting us to bring this to life. Forever grateful. - Blank Street Coffee, NYC
- Within an hour of you posting the Nudge about us, our reservations for the next two weeks completely filled up ! It was unbelievable. I am so thankful and really appreciate you sharing us on the platform. We are grinding thru the pandemic and you guys made our month! Our business pay money to google and Yelp every month to advertise but the results did not come close to what one article/post on Nudge did for us. It's unbelievable. We want to move away from traditional advertising on those sites and focus on social sites, like Nudge. - Ken J, Business Manager at El Mansour Restaurant, SF
- I just wanted to say thank you for including us in yesterday's Nudge. It was awesome to see the orders rolling in. You've built a community that really values your insight, and that is awesome!! - The Works, Seattle
- Seriously - The Nudge was the best business bounce we've gotten in all our press hits - far out performed Thrillist, Time Out and Do Stuff so we will bend over backwards anytime for your followers who are truly action oriented experience seekers!! We're forever your biggest fans!! - Small biz owner, NYC
- Last night was absolutely incredible. The energy in the room was electric, the crowd was super engaged and we got a lot of money into the pockets of local artists. thank you for what you guys have done. - Art Battle, SF
- I wanted to thank you again for your support, the team was absolutely amazed when I told them the news. The volunteers that help operate our events are so important when it comes to the success of our program so The Nudge boost truly went a long way. I am not sure how exactly things work on your end, but thanks to the overwhelming response we received, we will be closing the volunteer sign up as we've reached our goal! - Girls on the Run volunteer program, DC
- Just wanted to say thank you for including us in your Nudge yesterday! Visits to our Foster page spiked a huge amount, and I can only assume it's as a result of your push! Here's to hoping folks follow through and complete their foster applications. - Volunteering program, NYC

- I just wanted to say thank you for including us in yesterday's Nudge. It was awesome to see the orders rolling in. You've built a community that really values your insight, and that is awesome!! - Kellie, founder of The Works Seattle

- As a comedian who produces a new comedy show in Culver City I was looking for an effective way to promote our show to a wider audience. I had the opportunity to work with Nudge Text through an exclusive show with their followers. The Nudge Text team was incredibly committed to our success. I was blown away when our show sold out within an hour, and continue to be amazed at the enduring impact of Nudge Text's promotional and marketing efforts as our shows continues to draw bigger crowds each week. Nudge Text's efforts not only helped our show, but also the venue for our show - a restaurant that was hit hard during the pandemic. Thank you Nudge Text for bringing people together for a memorable night of laughs and delicious food— you have gained a true believer in your innovative and highly effective promotional application. We're excited to work with them again in the future!

- Jimmy Draxler, Culver City Comedy Show, LA

- Nudge not only exceeded expectations but the crowd that came was beyond wonderful. They appreciated the hard work that went into throwing a different and unique event that the vibe of it all was mutual love. The audience loved our one of a kind space and comics they've seen on TV and we loved their appreciation, we got so many audience members saying THANK YOU FOR DOING THIS! It made us love what we do even more, thank you Nudge, let's do this again SOON! - Michael, A Comedy Show L.A., LA
- The vibe was incredible! Attendees were all smiles and good vibes. Last night at the show we had a few returnees from the 4/20 show I noticed. That was easily the best show I've ever done/been on in general. Each of the comics I had on are all on the cusp of being big BIG so they've done every show imaginable in LA and across the country and they all told me that was the best show they've done. Idk if i told you but I had emailed the attendees we were opening the doors at 4:20. We didn't expect anyone to actually come but ppl showed up lol. People were chilling, smoking, having burgers for hours before the show. It really had the Woodstock vibes
- Jimmy Draxler, goodpeoplecomedy, LA
- Your planner came in and grabbed some content that has gotten us several bookings in just a FEW HOURS of her posting her Nudge Video. I checked the app and it looks like we are trending in the #2 spot for fun things to do in Chicago. We had a Couple come on Friday who told me that they have had the Nudge app downloaded and never went to any suggestions, this was their first time and they LOVED IT! I look forward to a long lasting partnership.
