

#CTCNow Day of Action Toolkit: December 7, 2022 (through the end of the year)

Negotiations have already begun for a major end-of-the-year tax package. This is a huge opportunity for us to create real change for our families and once again get a much needed expansion of the Child Tax Credit!

On December 7th, we are having a Child Tax Credit Day of Action to uplift how the CTC is a critical lifeline to families and demand Congress pass an extension of the CTC by the end of the year. In this toolkit you will find information for a call-in day, information about the Child Tax Credit press conference on Capitol Hill that MomsRising, Economy Security Project and Community Change is co-sponsoring, and more social media actions!

MomsRising Child Tax Credit Stories

WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU!

#ShareYourChildTaxCreditStory

“

I am able to buy my children more clothes and afford them to do after-school programs that cost money as well as pay my bills on time instead of being late [due to the Child Tax Credit].

- BONNIE, PRESQUE ISLE, ME

“

The Child Tax Credit [payments] I received last year for those six months was such a big help. I am a single mom, working in healthcare, and I have been struggling since the pandemic started... as a result of being behind on payments, I have two teenagers that felt they needed to work to help out. I'd rather have them concentrate on their studies, but unfortunately, I do need their financial help. If you could help to get us monthly payments again, I think I could finally tell my 15- and 16-year-olds that they don't need to work, or at least not as much since we can help pay our bills with the monthly CTC.

- MICHELLE, KENT CITY, MI

Every month is a struggle to pay our bills despite the fact that my wife and I both work as RNs. Our son has dyslexia and his public school doesn't provide any support services for him. In the hopes of providing him with the tools he needs to be successful in school and in the future, we pay for private tutoring twice a week. Our family has had to have tough conversations about the fact that, if money gets any tighter, we may have to stop taking him to tutor. It feels terrible to know your son needs support, but the cost may mean he doesn't get it. The CTC could help our family continue to get our child the help he needs for his learning disability.

- AMANDA, BILLINGS, MT

“

My wife delayed starting a new job in order to care for her mother, who has been in the hospital for more than two months. We have three kids in daycare, a bill that runs more than double our mortgage. The Child Tax Credit allows her to spend time with her mom, navigate the complex medical system, and advocate on her behalf. That money will make a real difference in our lives while we get through this difficult period and hopefully get back to normal.

- KYLE, PORTLAND, OR

“

My husband died in August. My son started kindergarten two days later. The $300 a month I get makes it possible for me to pay for the YMCA after-school childcare program at his elementary school so I don't have to worry about him while I am at work.

- SARAH, FREDERICKSBURG, VA

“

Our three children are disabled and we currently spend about $2,800 per month in medical expenses NOT covered by insurance....It's like a lifesaver is being tossed to us since we dig into savings every month....It's going to make it so that we can stay afloat!

- ADRIANA, OLYMPIA, WA

“ This monthly [Child Tax Credit] will give me a small amount of income security, for utilities, and so I can finally take my two girls and leave an abusive marriage. It is helping pave the way for me to break a generational cycle of domestic violence and abuse in my family. It may be a small amount of money to some, but for me and my girls, it's everything.

– B. PRINCETON, WV

“ I have worked part-time from home for the last eleven years as we raise our family....We piled on far more debt than we could pay off....But with the expanded Child Tax Credit? Now we can buy all the kids' school supplies. We can buy the "real" groceries instead of the "end of summer" ones. We won't fall behind and we will keep paying down our debts. We'll have what we need each month instead of losing sleep over my lost income. This really will change so much, for the better.

– CAMI, KENT, OH

“ The expanded Child Tax Credit helps our family afford quality childcare and cover food and expenses for our family, so we can both work full-time and focus on saving for our children's future!

– ANGELA, LEBANON, NH

“ I have two kids with autism and multiple special needs....[The price is] already expensive to care for with all the co-pays... The Child Tax Credit will help me provide my kids with these things that help give them a more equitable chance at a good future. Whether or not a child with special needs has their needs met should have nothing to do with a family's income.

– ROBIN, ENGLEWOOD, CO

“ The newly expanded Child Tax Credit will make it much easier for our daughter to get the nutrition she needs. Due to allergies and sensitivities, we have found that the only baby formula she's comfortable drinking costs us between $9 and $12 a day....The [extra money would] go straight to this necessary cost.

– STEPHANIE, EDISON, NJ
