

Song Ideas for Blended Worship:

The following are songs that have been well received by both contemporary and traditional congregations. You will notice that many of the contemporary songs are a little older. One reason for this is that many people have heard them, whether they have attended a contemporary worship service or not. Another reason is that many of these songs have elements that feel familiar and timeless. Remember, it's important for people to be able to participate! You can always add newer songs later.

Note: Songs are listed with the recordings I have used most often for reference, but I recommend listening to several versions to find the arrangement and style that works best for your ministry. If you are looking for modernized hymn arrangements, check out Reawaken Hymns, Norton Hall Band, Shane and Shane, and Getty arrangements.
