

Tech Leadership Notes 12.16.20

1

School Messenger / Emergency Notification System (Travis - tdillon@stancoe.org)

- Alerts: Test - there is an opt-in option. Travis will send via email. Reply to the message with any contact information you feel is necessary.

Britannica School and Escolar (Laurel Green | lgreene@eb.com)

- Link: <https://www.stancoe.org/division/technology-and-learning-resources/district-technology-leadership-group/201216>
- Laurel Greene - Britannica Online Learning. Both in English and Spanish "Britannica Escolar"
- Britannica School - Elementary through High School
- Integrate your Learning Management Systems
- Funded by the State of California (CA budget approved for the next three years)

District Technology Group Updates

- ETC21 Conference Postponed for now due to COVID
- Links will be sent out this will help in making-up for the conference
- <https://www.stancoe.org/etc#events>
- Leading Edge Certification and FLEX found at the SCOE website and on the link <https://www.stancoe.org/division/leading-edge-certification-programs>

Technology Updates and Discussion

- Raman Leading Roundtable
 - Hughson Gabe: Used "CARES" to purchase computers, projectors and desktop monitors.
 - Matthew Ketchum: Ed Tech Department, will be using the Britannica.
 - Erin Balaam: Wireless upgrades, self-harm and bullying concerns.
 - Orion Potts: Never a dull moment.
 - Chris Hagle: Instructional side - hybrid model; custom classroom; resources for teachers; New things happening; placing junos in the classrooms; cool projects - upgraded wireless system (marvis). Looking for other voice options.
 - Erick Carrillo: Equipping classrooms for learning (new TV's). What they had previously were projectors. K through Sixth Grade right now, it's been a good solution so far. Waiting for laptops to arrive (no estimation as to when they arrive).
 - Misty Roton: Offering chat support for students and staff.
 - Luke Hibbard: Ed Options - Looking to pilot a new digital curriculum in the Spring. Rolling out a new professional platform "LINK."

- Melanie Evans: Question for peers, “Disabling chrome books over the Christmas break?”

Closing

- Burt and Gregg: Final comments, thank you’s and wishes for a Merry Christmas