4. What can you do next?
 - Share tinyurl.com/lhconcisestarter and talk about the book(s) with your family and friends, because to make a difference, we must first understand what's happening.
 - Invite others to attend upcoming Friendly Climate Science Workshops - tinyurl.com/FCSWorkshop
 - Read about how to host a small Friendly Climate Science Workshop yourself - see tinyurl.com/hostFCSworkshop
 - Talk about the 21st century opportunities in the solutions. Individual actions are needed, but they are not enough. Consider the advice from Bill Gates in his most recent book about climate solutions:
 - a. “engaging in the political process is the most important single step that people from every walk of life can take to help”, so use these simple online tools to help you get started.
 - i. Write or call your Member of Congress - cclusa.org/write, cclusa.org/call
 - ii. Be sure to select the box to subscribe to CCL's mailing list to be contacted about future actions
 - b. And then get others to do the same! 100 constituents contacting their legislators will drive policy action which will in turn drive business investments, innovations, and deployments to accomplish the global transition needed. To incentivize economy-wide low-carbon transformation, we need durable market-based #BipartisanClimate policies NOW because #LaterIsTooLate
5. Five Facts, ten words – It's real. It's us. It's serious. Scientists agree. There's hope.
