Democrat for Senate

In Jacksonville, Senator Tripp enters his victory party to deliver a speech. The crowd cheers, as the Southern Senator shakes hands with those in attendance. He takes the stage to begin his speech.

“Thank you, thank you, everyone! You know, it wasn’t that long ago that we were here on a dark night in our history. When I lost that Governor's race, I truly didn’t know if I would ever be able to recover. But, here we are right back at it. I am so honored to once again be your Senator.”

“Moments ago, I had the opportunity to speak with Assemblyperson JacobInAustin. I thanked them for running a fantastic campaign against me. I also offered to work with them on a bipartisan level in both the Senate and the Assembly respectfully. Jacob may be a Civic, but they have always fought hard for you, the great Dixians. I am looking forward to working more with Assemblyperson Austin.”

“Folks, this election is another piece of evidence of what I’ve been saying for my entire career in public service. The old Dixie is gone. The days of the conservative policies are over and tonight all of the Dixie Democrats fought hard. While we were unsuccessful in my home district, I’m proud of Congressmenn-elect 18cjw, Stromstopper, Alpal, and our brand new Senator, my good friend, Adithyansoccer. The Dixie Dems have never been stronger and I’m so proud.”

“Tonight, the American people spoke. They sent a resounding message of support for what the Democratic Party did during our last term. Values that they share are being represented by their government. Values that every American deserves access to affordable healthcare. Values that climate change is a huge threat to our civilization. Values that recognize that there is an economic crisis in our nation with the amount of inequality that is present in our nation. Values that will protect your rights to make decisions about your body. And values that the American people support.”

“The Democratic Party did not win this election. Instead, the true winner of this election is the United States of America. Our great nation will continue to lead the world in passing key progressive policies that are looked up to by other nations. Americans will continue to be taken care of by their government. We will continue to fight for you, not the corporations. Americans always come first, not American corporations!”

“This election has been a fight for the Democratic Party and I want to thank not just the people who voted for me and my Dixie Democratic Party colleagues, but everyone across the nation who voted for Democrats. You helped us ensure that the Federal Government will remain in the control of the Democratic Party and thus, you, the people.”

“I promise y’all that your vote and your hard work will not go to waste. Together, we will continue on a progressive path. We will address racism in our law enforcement agencies and we will rid systemic racism out of our nation. We will make sure that we raise the corporate tax rate. We will defend a woman's right to choose. We will, most importantly, continue the progress that we’ve made.”

“None of this would have been possible without your vote. Tonight, your voice has been heard. Progressive beliefs will continue to be represented in your government. The American dream will continue and will even get better. We can do this because we are Americans. And folks, I promise y’all, we will. Thank you, God bless y’all, God bless the state of Dixie and God bless the United States.”
