A Note to Parent(s) & Guardian(s):

This week, we will continue to launch our reading and writing workshop! I will send home a page for your 4th grader to complete at home with a little help from you. Please help your child find the meaning of their name, and tell them any stories behind how they were given that name. There is more detail included on the page, so please help your child to read it carefully. When the completed page is returned on Friday, we will use the information for a writing piece. Also, I was getting short on time explaining to Mr Moll's HR. They have the papers, but I'll go over it more tomorrow in case they have any questions.
