Abstract

Write your abstract here. Abstract should be indented by 1.2 cm to the center. It should contain information about the paper, such as the purposes of the research, method and findings of the research. It should be written in 200-250 words. Abstract is written using Times New Roman 12pt, is single-spaced, not italicized, and justified. Abstract should NOT include any citations.

Keywords: keywords contain three to five words/phrases; separated with a semi-colon (;), and in alphabetical order.

Word allocation (Introduction and Literature Review): This section makes up 30% of the manuscript, approximately 1,050–1,500 words.

This is an introduction section. There is no need to state the ‘introduction’ at the beginning of this section. It discusses the entry point of your research/paper, purposes of the study or research problems, the contribution to knowledge, and research gap. The novelty of your manuscript should also be clarified. Please state them clearly in the beginning paragraph supported by related theories in the next paragraphs.

Your manuscript should contain at least 5,000 words. All citations included in the manuscript should be inserted using a referencing software such as Mendeley.com, EndNote, or citations and bibliography feature in Ms. Word.

At the final paragraph of this section, authors should include the research questions or objectives.

In this template, author(s) are not supposed to include their names and affiliations (identities). This is to satisfy the blind-review process.

Sub-Headings

First subheading: Times New Roman 12, bold, italic, justify, title case.

Second subheading: Times New Roman 12, Bold, italic, justify, sentence case

Third sub heading: Times New Roman 12, italic, justify, sentence case

METHOD (Font size: 12, Times New Roman, bold, and Capital Letters)

Word allocation (Method): This section makes up 20% of the manuscript, approximately 700–1,000 words.

This section explains the rationale for the application of specific approaches, methods, procedures or techniques used to identify, select, and analyze information applied to understand the research problem/project, thereby, allowing the readers to critically evaluate your project’s/study’s overall validity and reliability.

First subheading: Times New Roman 12, bold, italic, justify, sentence case

Second subheading: Times New Roman 12, Bold, italic, justify, sentence case

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

Word allocation (Results and Discussion): This section makes up 50% of the manuscript, approximately 1,750–2,500 words.

The discussion is written to interpret and describe the significance of your findings in light of what was already known about the issues being investigated, and to explain any new understanding or insights about the problem after you have taken the findings into consideration. It should connect to the introduction by way of the research questions or hypotheses you posed and the literature you reviewed, but it does not simply repeat or rearrange the introduction; this section should always explain how your study has moved the reader's understanding of the research problem forward from where you left them at the end of the introduction.

The research findings in the form of research data are further discussed or critically interpreted with a particular relevant theoretical approach. Data can also be supported with the presentation of tables, images, etc. Captions for the table are written above it with sequenced numbering so that it can be easily referred to, though not put under the pointing sentence/ paragraph. Line (border) to the table is made minimalist by eliminating the vertical lines and leaving horizontal lines deemed necessary. Captions for images are placed below the picture, also with providing sequenced numbering. One page only accommodates a table or an image with a maximum of two-thirds the size of the page (size adjusted as efficiently as possible)

Place titles of Figures after the figures and Tables preceding them using Times New Roman font size 10 for the title.

REFERENCES (Examples)

Use APA for in-text citations and the reference list (Angeli et al, 2010). For in-text citations, use the author's name and year (Author, 1980), and if there are direct quotes, then provide the page number" (Author, 2010, p. 24). If you are citing more than one reference, put them in alphabetical order (Alpha, 2008; Beta, 1999). For a reference with up to five authors, use all the names in the first instance (Author1, Author2, Author3, Author4 & Author5, 2007), and then use the first author et al. subsequently (Author1 et al., 2007). Do not use footnotes.
