Workshop: Pleasure for kids? What, when and how to teach kids about sexual pleasure? (2 hours)

Saturday, October 1st, 2022, 14.00-15.30 - Tartu University Library, Struve Street 1, Tartu; Session Room 'Kodavere'

We are a group of enthusiasts re-starting the Nordic Network for Pedagogical Sexology. Come and discuss with us!

In February 2022 we had an online meeting to figure out how we can establish a network, and support our work across the Nordic and Baltic countries. We decided to do a workshop at NACS in Tartu to discuss this further, focusing on teaching kids and youth about sexuality in general, and sexual pleasure particulary. We have a mailing list, and also started a Facebook group you may want to join. Contact Hanne Grasmo (hanne.grasmo@tuni.fi) for further questions.

Project: NACS guidelines for Sexual Education?

In this workshop we want to discuss the possibility of making a Nordic project and apply for finances for this, to agree on NACS guidelines for what to teach kids about sexuality and pleasure at which age. The guidelines could be in use for Health and Education Governmental bodies when making policies, but also for professional educators and health workers. The goal can be to submit these guidelines for a resolution at the next NACS annual meeting.

Come to the workshop if you are interested in teaching kids and youth about sexuality and pleasure. We will discuss our view on this, to see if we have common ground, and also if and how we want to run a NACS guidelines project.

Workshop facilitator: Hanne Grasmo is Head of the Norwegian Pedagogical Sexological Committee in NFKS, part of the podcast PedSexPod and is currently doing her Doctoral research in Tampere about role-playing games and sexual arousal. She is a Lector and a Sociologist, former Project Manager for the LGBT National Knowledge Center within the Norwegian Government, former Chief Editor of Cupido Magazine and published the sex-ed book for youth «Kjærlighetsboka – en bok for unge om sex» in 1994.