Dear <<Teacher>>,

When educators take leadership roles such as the one you performed at EdCamp, in which you facilitated <<presentation>>, schools become incredible places of learning. Performing in the highest professional capacity possible, you are modeling for colleagues the way the teachers can collaborate and share best practices to benefit classroom instruction and ultimately student achievement. Kudos to you for the great job you did today and keep modeling the highest form of professionalism.

Sincerely,

Dr. Michael S Gaskell, Hammarskjold Principal
