

What kind of public argument do you think this is? Check one (and only one) of the argument types below:

_____ This argument establishes an original pro position on an issue of debate.

_____ This argument establishes an original con position on an issue of debate.

_____ This argument clarifies the causes for a problem that is being debated.

_____ This argument proposes a solution for a problem that is being debated.

__________ This argument positively evaluates a specific solution or policy under debate (and clearly identifies the idea I'm supporting).

_____ This argument openly refutes a specific solution or policy under debate (and clearly identifies the idea I'm refuting).

How effectively do you feel this draft achieves the purpose for the argument type you identified above, on a scale of 1 to 10? Refer back to the type descriptions in the instructions for Blog Post 10.7 if needed.

If you give a score higher than 5 and you cannot cite at least THREE specific details from the draft to justify that score, I'm going to deduct one point from YOUR peer review grade for Deadline 12. If you give a score lower than 5 and can cite TWO specific things the writer needs to work on for this category, I'll award you an extra point towards YOUR peer review grade for Deadline 12. If your overall peer review grade for this assignment exceeds 20, I'll apply the additional points towards recent missing and/or low-rated blog posts. I reserve the right not to award points for under-explained or banal feedback.

Your rating for purpose: 4

Please explain the reason for your score in at least 3 to 5 clear sentences. Cite specific details from the rough draft to explain your score: I am not exactly clear on the specific type of argument you are employing here. However, I can see the different positions and information you are using to create your overall purpose.

Argumentation

Refresh your memory about the three different kinds of rhetorical strategies we read about for Project 2: Emotional appeals, Ethical or credibility-building appeals, and Logical or rational appeals.

How effectively do you feel this draft uses rhetoric to make its argument? This might mean balancing different kinds of appeals, doubling down on one category or something else. There's lots and lots of different ways authors can use these strategies... So, what do you think of how this draft made use of these three categories of appeals, on a scale of 1 to 10?

Your rating for argumentation: 6

Please explain the reason for your score in at least 3 to 5 clear sentences. Cite specific details from the rough draft to explain your score: This does not feel like an argumentative paper to me personally. I can't find a good specific example, but overall, if this piece is meant to opinionated strongly, it is very evenly laid out. I would suggest adding more opinion throughout if that is your purpose.

You will need to read/look at the hyperlinked examples in the student author's Blog Post 11.3 in order to rate this category.

Your rating for genre: 4

I do not feel this links well to the examples in 11.3. I am probably missing a something, my own personal fault. However, i am having a hard time evaluating the overall genre. I feel that it would be good to reemphasize the overall genre and purpose of your essay.
