

Texturing

This portion of the assessment focused on taking the plane generated in previous assignments and applying a texture to it. We used the external library STBI to load images into our application. In the end it was required that we apply not just one texture to an object but multiple. This meant using math to combine the color values of each to result in the desired effect.