RUTLAND CANOE CLUB COME & TRY / INTRODUCTION SESSIONS 2025/6

For more information or to book, email: info@rutlandcanoeclub.org.uk

The aim of these Come & Try sessions is to introduce newcomers to Paddle Sport activities in a safe and relaxed way on land and on the water. They are suitable for adults of all ages, and juniors (under 18s) accompanied on the water by their parent or adult carer.

Additionally, we aim to gauge how close potential new Club members are to being able to paddle on the open water at a typical Club paddle on Rutland Water, or alternatively, what coaching they may need before that stage

The sessions will start on dry land, and progress on the water in a general purpose kayak. Later, once basic competence and confidence has been achieved, there will be an opportunity to try the longer sea touring kayaks generally used for our open water paddles out on the main body of Rutland Water.

The sessions will cover:

- safety on the water
- correct use of equipment
- basic forward, backward and turning paddling strokes
- demonstration of safety equipment
- what to do in the event of a capsize
- a basic rescue from the water

Sessions are run by volunteers, previously trained and qualified as Coaches by the British Canoe Union (now Paddle U.K.) and other very experienced paddling members of the club under their guidance.

At the end of the session, we will assess:

- your level of safety
- your competence to paddle in a straight line
- your ability to capsize safely and be rescued
- your confidence on and in the water

This informal assessment helps us and you decide whether you are ready to join us at regular club paddles. Club paddles are on the main body of Rutland Water in good weather and low wind conditions. You may be ready for that, or you may need more training. If you want and/or need more training do we can help you get the additional assistance to reach the necessary safe paddling level, having fun in the process.

The fee(s) for a Come & Try Session includes temporary Club Membership(s) and, subject to Committee approval, if you join the club within 3 months this sum is credited against the cost of annual membership(s).
