

Brieta's Obsession

Once upon a time, there was a little girl named Brieta. She was in 8th grade but way smarter than her classmates. She was proud and very spoiled by her parents. They told her as long as she gets good grades and is on the perfect student list of teachers, they would give her anything she desired. Brieta loved reading mystery novels, and her inspiration was the one and only Sherlock Holmes' sister "Enola Holmes". She'd watch both of her movies 15 times and read all the books 12 times. She was so obsessed with her that she thought the world around her was lying to her and keeping a secret.

One day she lost her mind and locked a student in the bathroom for her so-called investigation. The principal found out and expelled her. Her parents were so furious so they shouted at her and grounded her. Later that night, her mother came to her room and told her that she will be sent to boarding school. Next morning, she arrived at the boarding school and met her roommate Sofia. Sofia was completely the opposite of Brieta. We have strict teachers, if you don't listen to them they will punish you in the secret room, said Sofia. Brieta was very curious about the secret room so she purportedly threw a pen at her teacher to get punished. The head master took Brieta to the secret room and gave her a chewing gum before entering. Brieta ate the chewing gum and entered the room, she saw an animal that looked like an eagle but didn't have any legs. She immediately fainted. When Brieta woke up, she was in her room with Sofia who told her that she was asleep for 2 days. Brieta noticed something odd in that room. If it is really an animal, why doesn't it get out of the room?, she asked herself. She thought of a plan along with Sofia, that they would have a fight to get punished again. Once again the head master took Brieta to the secret room and gave her the chewing gum, this time she pretended to eat the chewing gum but spit it later and entered the secret room. In the room there was nothing but a wooden eagle with a little worm crawling on its head. She pretended to faint and when she got in her room, she told Sofia everything.

The next morning Brieta called her parents and told her everything. They came an hour later with the police, and they arrested the headmaster for putting drugs in a chewing gum just to punish students. Brieta apologised to her parents about her crazy behaviour and her parents forgave her, because of her crazy obsession of mystery novels, she saved a lot of students. Now she lives a happy life, being a mystery fiction writer who anonymously goes by weagirl.
