? Who You Are Now vs Who You Want to Be ?

- Now:
 - Adham a 15 year old living in egypt in an house that has ugly drawings drawn in each wall, with broken yellow lights, and old broken wooden furniture, which makes him feel like if here were homeless, he is working in high school as a slave for the system who is forced to do to study random BS and is perceived as a student (slave) by everyone and surrounded by weak minded slaves feeling controlled , his body is weak, he is broke, he doesnt have food, he is ugly, bad haircut with pimples across all of his face with braces in his yellow unstructured teeth, he is lonely, with a neck hump and arched lower back, he daydreams a lot throughout the day. He gets intimidated easily by his gym coach, he cares about what other people think of him, he is nothing (hasn't achieved anything yet) AVERAGE, everyones says he will fail, he is broke.
- Who You Want to Be:
 - Lord Empirus, a man in a tall circle shaped glass tower combined with 4 circled shaped shorter glass towers at each side of the main tower topped with a circled shaped object and between each glass of the tower, with 4 quarter circle corner circles at the edges of each tower, with 4 similar shorter towers next to each attached tower and 4 similar looking towers in the corner between the side towers, with a decreased back ground at the end of the before the middle tower and an elevator door with a long decreasing cylinders at the circle of the middle/main tower ,standing at the top widnow of the tower in his office/ bedroom infront Of the tower's window, he is wearing leather black shoes, gray pants, gray closed business suit with a white shirt and a black neck tie, he has a rolex 1908 attached to his wrist, his muscles are visible through the suit, he has a neatly styled crew cut with a boxed beard wearing terminator sunglasses with a furious look in his face, he is the emperor of a great empire, an business organization of jacked, furious, professional gangsters all focused together on becoming the most powerful business organization in the planet, that man is focused on creating the most powerful business empire in the planet, that man is connected with god, feels presence of god next to him giving him confidence, feels grounded while praying, feeling grateful for what he have, that man is calm even under the most pressures situations stays non-reactive, with straight neck posture, that man is a great leader his eye contact is intimidating, his body language is open, deliberate, his voice is deep and commanding, that man is a terminator who performs endless raw action

🔥 Your Reason Why 🔥

- To get my mother to a chiropractor and fix her back so she can move freely again without feeling torturing pain and that she can go to the gym, lose her weight and get physically fit.
 - To replace my fathers kidney with a fixed kidney so he is able to go to the gym and become a jacked tough minded father, and so that he stays alive
 - To get My family out of egypt before anybody gets hurt because of israel
 - To build the most powerful family in the planet, a family that each of its member is a successful individual, I and my brother and father working as emperors of the copywriting empire, the three of us sitting at a gray boss chair on his laptop working wearing business suits and rolexes with jacked muscles team-working together on building the empire, mother working as the owner of the most powerful life coaching business empire sitting at her chair wearing her business suit and rolex and physically fit, while we in the background persuade people to buy mom's products, I'm the leader of the business, and each one of us is a powerful organization that is focused together in becoming the most powerful organization in the planet
 - To build the most powerful business empire in the planet, an business organization of jacked, tough minded, professional, hardworking gangsters all focused together on becoming the most powerful organization in the planet, and a business which reaches to all places globally, all lead by me.

Day - 10/26

GWS Reflection:

What tasks/objectives did I demolish?

- Followed up with my mother
- Asked the Gs and figured out that my father niche is not bad

Problems/mistakes encountered?

- N/A

Solutions to each mistake/problem?

End day review:

Overall problems/mistakes throughout the day?

- Lack of discipline, I think I daydreamed again throughout the day
- Keeping walking around the house like a madman asking myself “what is my why, what is my real reason why?” because I have a bit of confusion about my why, I’m not sure if what is written there is 100% correct

Solutions to each mistake/problem?

- RAW ACTION: if you do stuff as quickly as efficiency as possible unstopably, you can’t daydream
- When you get out of the next exam war, open this document, and rewrite about your why freeflowing ideas out of your head then filter it until it is actually a powerful why
