2. Golf N Golf Quick Verdict

Yes — a Nick Faldo design close to Suvarnabhumi Airport with facilities to match. Summit Windmill packs real length into its opening and closing holes, water comes into play almost everywhere, and the clubhouse is genuinely one of the more luxurious in Bangkok. Its standout feature, though, is night golf under hydraulic LED lighting — a rarity among Bangkok courses, and a fun way to close out a golf day rather than end it at the 18th green.

4. Overview

Summit Windmill Golf Club opened in 1993 in Bang Phli district, Samut Prakan, close to Suvarnabhumi Airport and about 30 to 40 minutes from downtown Bangkok. It was designed by Nick Faldo, the six-time major champion, and it plays every bit as demanding as his name would suggest — a back-tee slope rating of 146 puts it among the tougher tests in the country.

Faldo's design leans on substantial earthmoving to create elevation and mounding rare in this part of Bangkok, with elevated island-style tee boxes and water in play on nearly every hole. The long par-5 1st stretches to 624 yards with a lake running the entire left side, and the par-4 18th repeats the same water-guarded test for a dramatic finish. The par-3 12th adds an island green into the mix. The course has hosted real professional tournaments too, including an AGPA Tour event backed by Lexus International in 2000 and the Thailand Masters in 2001.

What sets Summit Windmill apart from most Bangkok courses, though, is night golf — hydraulic posts raise LED lighting after dark, letting golfers play well past sunset. It's been a popular fixture for over a decade, and paired with the club's European-castle-style clubhouse and on-site 5-star resort, it makes for one of the more complete golf experiences near the city.

6. Course Highlights

- Championship Design: Nick Faldo's routing uses substantial earthmoving to create elevation and mounding rare for the Bangkok area.

9. James' Recommendation

“Summit Windmill is my go-to when someone's flying out later in the day and wants one more round in without rushing across the city — it's right by Suvarnabhumi. But honestly, try the night golf at least once. Playing under lights here is a completely different experience, and it's not something most Bangkok courses can offer. The 1st hole will test you early too — 624 yards with water all down the left, so don't be a hero off the tee.” — James

10. Golf N Golf Recommendation

- Who it suits best: golfers who want a big-name designer course near the airport, and anyone keen to try night golf at least once.
- Courses to pair with: Siam Country Club Bangkok — both sit in the Samut Prakan / Bangna-Trad corridor near Suvarnabhumi Airport, making them an efficient pairing for an arrival or departure day without a long cross-city transfer.
- Suggested itinerary: Day 1 arrival, afternoon or evening round (or night golf) at Summit Windmill; Day 2 Siam Country Club Bangkok; remaining days at Bangkok's other championship courses before departure.
