

Overnote Privacy Policy

Mosci Software, software manufacturer Overnote, is committed to respecting the privacy of every user. Therefore, it declares that Overnote:

- Data collection: Overnote will NOT collect, send or manage any personal data of users, even with their consent.

- Advertising:

- General Context: Ads displayed by Overnote are NOT based on the collection of personal data of users, but are displayed based on generic contexts and the content of the app.

- Funding: Ads are only used to fund app development and to offer the app for free to users.

- User tracking: Overnote will NEVER track users for advertising or profiling purposes.

- Auto-save notes: All notes created with Overnote will be automatically saved to your device.

- Google admob data management: For more information about data management by Google admob (the service used to provide advertising), please see their privacy policy.

Mosci Software also states that the privacy of users is protected and therefore Overnote will NOT collect any personal data of users or technical information about the device. If during the development of Overnote such privacy agreements are changed, users will be notified by notification in the app.
