Both talk about wanting to be in a group

4 evidence in your own words from "Herd Behavior."

It talks about staying with the pack, or else you will be attacked by something or you could be singled out because you are not part of the group.

4 evidence in your own words from "The Party."

They say that they do not want to be left out because she is the most popular girl in the school.

She thinks about being too tall and her hair being unusual, and she wants to look like the popular girl so that she can attend the party and be more popular.
