Week 4: WAR WEEK!

Reflection Of Week 3:

I am getting better at organising my day, concentrating more in those G work sessions, learning more about what kind of free value I can provide, how to do better email prospecting, and my OODA Loop, basically I am watching a HUGE impact on my copy.

And the most important thing is that today (the last day I “land” or start working with a client that is my friend, I am making things happen and I am feeling great.)

Overall I am getting better every single day at my craft and also thanks to the challenges that are inside of the campus, those helped a lot, and will help a lot.

Goals For This Week - (LIST ALL) :

- Land an actual client
- Keep working with my friend and start making some sales
- Keep learning a lot
- Keep getting better in every realm of human endeavor
- Not sleep until I make colossal progress
- Putting all my waking hours to work
