On Friday, September 15th, our school hosted a NextGen Assembly. They talked to us and sang to us about real-life experiences. We learned about how we matter, how we have value, and how we have purpose. They talked about their experiences in high school when they were our age and told us how they overcame those experiences. It was a really fun and eye-opening experience for all of us!

Student Life

By: Jessalyn Parks and Kenny Vaught

On September 14th, the softball team dedicated their home softball game against Atlanta to former Bevier Softball 2nd baseman, Lillian "Lilly" May Timmerman. Lilly recently passed away and to honor her we dedicated this game specifically to her and her family. We took a 14-second moment of silence to honor our fallen teammate. Fans dressed in very bright colors to honor Lilly's colorful personality. The final score was Bevier with 4 and Atlanta with 3, we finished the game in the 7th inning. If you add  $4+3+7=14$ , we also have 14 girls on the team. #14 was definitely present. Lilly will forever be missed!

On September 29th, we celebrated Senior Night for Softball and Baseball. This year's Senior softball players are Jordan Harrington #18 Pitcher, Lanie Witt #1 Shortstop, Jaycee Christensen #23 3rd Baseman, Jessalyn Parks #10 1st Baseman, Alana Fesler #15 Left Fielder, Kenny Vaught #17 Right Fielder. Senior Baseball players are Joshua Wriedt #4 Catcher, Landen Teter #12 Shortstop, and Jalin Bachman #10 1st Baseman. Ladycats beat Brashear 12-2 and Wildcats beat Brashear 4-3. The Ladycats Brasher senior night game was also their 3rd and 4th place game for the Atlanta Tournament. The Ladycats placed 3rd!!!

Self-Betterment

By: Bailey Sizemore

The idea of self betterment is to see a change within yourself, one thing about self betterment is everyone looks at it differently and everyone believes different things about self betterment. One of the main points of this article will be that you must step out of the comfort zone that has been built around you. Your whole life you have been taught to only like doing what you enjoy. Sometimes in order to really figure yourself out you must step out and do things you don't enjoy and grow, from there you can build upon the character you have.

The things they tell you, and hear from outside people may be a little shocking and scary, but this can be constructive criticism. Albeit some people can't take it you have to be able to see some truth in it one way or another, it's not always life ending or super serious sometimes it can be as simple as someone saying, "Hey the way you dress is odd", or as complex as someone saying that, "You don't understand how to do something very important".

The world can be a very cold and distant place, but the best thing about it is you make it what you want. You can be sour and lonely or you can have a small group or a very large group. It all just depends upon you, you can make friends with anyone and always keep in mind to be respectful with everyone because you never know if they may save your life or not. Always have a couple of good buddies who you can always count on, and always be sure to never let anyone take advantage of you and your kindness. You are your own light in the world so burn as bright as you'd like.
