

Works Cited - Palestinian-Israeli Conflict

Our research approach is largely reading books, because books require much more work/effort to produce and edit than articles. There is also a barrier to entry with publishing a book—far more than an article—so I usually trust them more. From there, I double check using a variety of online sources.

Some additional sources and ideas for study can be found on my Patreon. For these episodes, I have a post with pro-Palestinian perspectives, another for pro-Israeli perspectives, and another on the history of Zionism + other resources.

Heavily Consulted Books:

Abuelash, Izzeldin; "I Shall Not Hate: A Gaza Doctor's Journey on the Road to Peace and Human Dignity." Bloomsbury, 2011. (Palestinian Perspective)

Bard, Mitchell; "West Bank, Gaza and Lebanon Security Barriers: Background & Overview"; Jewish Virtual Library; Date is not mentioned, but the it is pretty recent as the bibliography has an article published December 2021. (link)

Black, Ian. "Enemies and Neighbors: Arabs and Jews in Palestine and Israel, 1917-2017" Atlantic Monthly Press, 2017. (This book is massive beyond all reason. Heavily consulted)

Halevi, Yossi Klein; "Letters to My Palestinian Neighbor"; Harper Press;

Oren, Michael; "Six Days of War: June 1967 and the Making of the Modern Middle East." Presidio Press, published 2001

Shavit, Ari; "My Promised Land: The Triumph and Tragedy of Israel." 2013. (This is a left-leaning Israeli perspective. I appreciate how open he is about his bias, yet tries to see other sides.)

Tishby, Noa; "Israel: A Simple Guide to the Most Misunderstood Country on Earth." 2021 - Noa Tishby is a secular Israeli and an actress. Pro-Israel perspective.

Tolan, Sandy; The Lemon Tree (Young Reader's Edition): An Arab, a Jew, and the Heart of the Middle East; Bloomsbury Publishing PLC; 2020. (Tries to show both sides)

Tolan, Sandy; The Lemon Tree: An Arab, a Jew, and the Heart of the Middle East. (Tries to show both sides—a good simple, start book)
