

Hey Leon,

I just wanted to reach out to let you know I love what you're doing and:

Bridging the gap between nerdy self-improvement and viral media.

The growth on your channel has been phenomenal.

The reason for this email is I wanted to run this by you:

Would you be open to expanding your webpage to help new visitors and prospects on their journey with your brand. I have a few ideas on how you can do this:

One is adding a blueprint to self-growth to sign up for a daily newsletter where you can then add daily value nuggets for your audience.

This is just some food for thought, if you are interested I'd love to discuss more with you on this note.

Let me know what you think,

Gabriel
