INTRODUCTION

This policy gives a description on how Creative Digital Solution (“us”, “we”, or “our”) collects, uses, shares, and protects information about you for our games on mobile devices, PCs, or on other platforms in order to provide you with excellent service and develop our products.

All Creative Digital Solution activities regarding marketing, advertising, and other services (“Services”) are governed by this Privacy Policy. Using or accessing a Service on any platform means that you agree to the use of your information in compliance with this Privacy Policy. This policy also describes how you can withhold or withdraw your consent to the use of your data, including for targeted advertisements, and how to request to know about, correct, or delete the information we hold.

Creative Digital Solution is dedicated to transparency, data privacy, and security, and follows the strict regulations required by the CCPA (California Consumer Privacy Act) and GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation), as detailed in this privacy policy.

If you have any concerns, please contact us using the methods provided in the Contact Us section of this document. If you disagree with your information being used as described in this Privacy Policy, please do not install or use the Services.

This Privacy Policy was last updated on 22.03.2023.

INFORMATION COLLECTION

Your information is collected at the start of using our games and/or other Services. We use this data to provide you with better game experiences and Services for the purpose of optimization, preventing fraud, and for marketing and advertising. We may also collect information from advertising platforms and partners and other third parties such as information about purchases and interests.

We may collect and process the following types of information:

- The type of your device, IP address, your game ID when using the app, and the country or region that you're playing in;
- Your Advertising ID, Device ID numbers (for more see here Advertising IDs);
- Details about your gameplay on our app, including: amount of time played, if you have left the game on a specific level or if you have cleared it, and your scores on levels, and items you own or use;
- Purchase history on behalf of our payment service providers to keep a record on if a purchase has been successfully made. We do not collect credit card information;
- Information we collect via cookies and other similar technologies, as explained further below;
- Information from our other group companies or other third party companies who have your consent or have other legal rights to share granted information with us (advertising networks and publishing partners, platforms). This may include your interests, other games you played, demographic and general location information. We use this information as described in this Privacy Policy;
- Information that you provide when you connect to your social network account when creating an account with us. This may include, but is not limited to: your name, address, email address, or other information;
- Information as further set out in this Privacy Policy, including Social Sharing Features, Marketing, and Advertising.

If you choose not to connect to your social network accounts when using our games, we still collect anonymous information. There will still be device level identifiers and other information described here, but there will be no personally identifiable information.

We may ask for your approval to collect other information in some circumstances from you or your device. If this situation arises, we will inform you what information we are to collect, the reason we collect it, and how we will be using that information.

INFORMATION USAGE AND SHARING

Optimizing Our Services

We analyze and optimize to provide you the best possible products by using your information from the use of our Services and analysis of de-identified or aggregated data to analyze the performance of our games, troubleshoot problems, verify that our websites work properly on all devices, create updates, and develop and improve the quality of our products.

Analytics and Research

We collect information using analytics tools such as third party analytics tools to see how you play our games or use our Services. Those tools may contain cookies or other similar tracking technologies. We may use your data for research and analytics purposes to engage with you directly. We may also create reports, analysis or similar services for use by us for the purposes of research or business intelligence.

Social and Community

There are social and community channels we use to communicate with our players. We receive your information only when you initiate interaction on those channels, and any information you provide may be used in connection with those channels. If you choose to interact with our channels, we may communicate with you through those channels and may republish your posts on those channels.

Social Sharing

Our Services may offer social sharing features and other integrated tools that allow you to connect with other media. You must be over the minimum age limit prescribed by the legislation in your country and local government to use such social sharing features which may, depending on the settings you set with the provider, share information with your friends or the public.

Our Services contain social features from the providers listed below. For more information about the processing driven by the third parties regarding social sharing features, please visit the privacy policies of the providers found here:

- Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/about/privacy/
- Game Center: https://www.apple.com/legal/privacy/en-ww/
- Google Play Games: https://www.google.com/policies/privacy/

MARKETING

We may serve ads based on your information we collect about you within our Services, or place ads on third party websites, apps and internet-connected devices. This information may include:

- Ad identifiers and other non-personal information collected from your device
- Your interactions with our game and Services, including game play information
- Your age, country or region, and gender
- Other information collected from third parties who have obtained your consent or have a legal right to share it with us.

This information is used to try to make sure that you only see marketing from us that you are interested in, including our other games. Please note that if you opt-out, you may still have advertisements in the game, but they will not be targeted advertisements (advertisements that are tailored to your interests by using your information).

Marketing Partners

There are various third party marketing partners we use to help market our games. With the help of your information collected when you use their services, they make assumptions to ensure that most relevant advertising that you would prefer to see is presented and evaluate the effectiveness of advertisements.

This Privacy Policy does not cover the data use of our marketing partners, but they are required to have a legal basis to use your data for marketing purposes and to provide you the details on how it's being used. For more information we recommend for you to read our partners' privacy policies on their websites (a full list can be found here).

ADVERTISING

Our games include advertising for third party products and services. We and our partners use your information to improve advertising and targeting for third party ads that are shown in our games. This information is used to make sure that the ads that you see might be of interest to you or relevant to you.

This information may include:

- Ad identifiers and other non-personal information collected from your device
- Your interactions with our game and Services, including game play information
- Your age, country or region, and gender
- Other information collected from third parties who have obtained your consent or have a legal right to share it with us.

Please note that if you opt-out, you may still have advertisements in the game, but they will not be targeted advertisements (advertisements that are tailored to your interests by using your information).

Advertising Partners

Non-personal identifiers and other information that is collected from your device when you play our games or use our Services may be shared with advertising partners in order to deliver ads to your device. Such information may be combined with information that our advertising partners collect separately to serve you with more relevant ads (targeted ads) and to enhance the accuracy of their targeting. For more information we recommend for you to scan through our partners' privacy policies on their websites(a full list can be found here).

Ad Identifiers

We use ad identifiers that are non-permanent, non-personal identifiers such as the Android and/or Apple's ID for advertising associated with your device, and similar technologies such as tracking pixels within ads to provide interest-based advertising. These technologies enable us and our third party advertising partners to recognize you and your device, allow our Services to interact with a third party social network or platform, and help our payment processors to complete your payment instructions.

CHILDREN'S PERSONAL INFORMATION

We do not knowingly collect any personal information from anyone under the age of 13 (under the age of 16 in Europe), unless consent is given by a parent or legal guardian. If you are under 13 years of age (16 in Europe), please do not send us any information about yourself, and you should not use or attempt to use our Services. Some of our Services have age restrictions which may vary depending on countries, regions, OS, platforms, etc. If you are under the applicable age restrictions, please do not send us any information about yourself and you should not use or attempt to use our Services.

In the event we learn that we have inadvertently gathered personal information from children under the age of 13 (16 in Europe), we will take reasonable measures to promptly delete such information from its records in a secure manner. If you believe that we may have any information from or about children under the age of 13 (16 in Europe), please let us know by sending us an email at lpancevski@gmail.com

Please note that all persons under the age of majority are required in their respective jurisdictions to have a parent or guardian read and accept this Privacy Policy and the Terms of Service on their behalf. Parents are encouraged to supervise their children's use of our Services and to become familiar with the types of content available through our Services.

Parents should oversee their children's use of e-mail, forum and other online communications.
