

The Holo Zone Zine

Introduction

Hello everyone, welcome to the Project Information Document of “The Holo Zone” fanzine!

The Holo Zone is a non-profit free digital fanzine showing our love and appreciation for the idols in Hololive Production. We want to release this fanzine on 2 December as it was the day Cover consolidated its Hololive, INNK Music, and Holostars agencies as the unified Hololive Production brand 2 years ago. Hence, we picked this date to celebrate as many idols as possible.

Contents

This fanzine aims to have illustrations featuring the idols as well as messages dedicated to them. For those who like to draw but would rather focus on something small, contributors can draw decorations (such as chibis, doodles or mascots) to accompany the messages instead of full page illustrations! The messages can range from sharing how you have met a particular idol or hololive as a whole to sharing how deep in the rabbit hole you are and what you have done as a fan in this community. Once it's done, we plan to have the zine available on Issuu for browsing with a download link to the pdf in the description! Also, it's non-selective and open to all fans and artists, regardless of skill levels, so feel free to shoot your shot!

Guidelines

- All pieces must be SFW and fall under their guidelines as listed under their website (a.k.a keep it seiso because we say so :3)

- Don't misrepresent anything from hololive, that includes creating derivative works that the idols may find unpleasant.
- No content that is falsely represented as official, or can be misinterpreted or mistaken as official
- No content that is contradictory to public order and morality, or exceeds what is socially acceptable
- No content that includes matters pertaining to any particular ideology, belief, religion, or politics
- No content that damages the company (hololive) or idols' image,
- Content that damages a third party's image, or violates their rights
- Other content that hololive may deem unsuitable
- Size for full illustrated art piece: A4 (can be vertical or horizontal), 300 DPI
- Size for decorations: Within 1000px by 1000px, 300 DPI
- Depending on the ideas, you are free to draw the idols differently from their official appearances (eg. different outfit, hairstyle) but we do ask that there is some obvious indication that they are indeed the idols - it can be their default outfits (or some form of derivatives) or hair colour etc.
- Please sign your work and include your social media links in the submission form here (<https://forms.gle/oescnzdsh6m1ojWA>).

You retain ownership of and the right to reproduce your work for personal use. You may not ask to have your work removed from the zine once the deadline for art submission has passed. We retain the right to remove any art or artist from the project for any reason if we choose. By joining this project you agree and consent to these terms and conditions.
