A: Hey, _____! Tell me, what are your goals for the future?

B: Hi, _____! Thanks for asking. Well, I will take GED preparation classes next year. I want to go to college someday. What about you?

A: That's great! I want to open up a bakery. I will start my own business and be my own boss next year.

B: What will the name of your bakery be?

A: It'll be called 'Deliciously Sweet.' What do you think?

B: Sounds perfect. What treats will you sell?

A: Just baked goods. I won't sell coffee or drinks.

B: That's awesome! I'll visit your bakery when it opens.

A: What about you? What will you do after college?

B: My other goal is to travel and visit new places.

A: Traveling is a great goal! Where will you go?

B: I'll visit countries in Europe, Asia, and the Caribbean, but I won't visit Greenland...It's too cold for me.

A: That sounds amazing. I won't be able to join you, but I'm sure you will have lots of fun traveling .

B: Thanks, _____! I'm sure you'll have the best bakery in town.
