Music Production

Growing up in a home filled with music, I was introduced to instruments and dance early on. I began experimenting with beats, loops, and sound effects in Soundtrap around the age of eight, before later moving on to FL Studio to explore more advanced production tools. Over time, I've developed a deeper appreciation for the details and techniques behind the tracks I enjoy, and I bring that curiosity into creating my own music.

Video Production

In addition to Music Production, I also have limited experience with Video Production; such as recording & editing YouTube videos, utilizing SFX and music to enhance the overall production. Recently, I've been learning how to animate, and hoping to improve at it over time.

Acting

My first and only acting experience to-date has been playing "The March Hare" in my school's seventh-grade production of Alice in Wonderland. That experience introduced me to the process of auditioning for a role, learning lines, rehearsing with a cast, and performing on stage.

Visual Arts — Drawing

Anime has always been a primary influence for my interest in Visual Arts— which I first explored through an elementary school elective, following drawing tutorials, trying painting, and sketching in my free time. In eighth-grade Art Class, I learned about different artists and practiced foundational techniques, including lines, shapes, angles, and color palettes— which gave me the skill-set to be able to conceptualize and create original characters; inspired by characters from the Anime & gaming series that sparked my original interest in drawing.
