

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am very excited about the opportunities that your company is offering, the Back-End Web Developer in particular. This position is perfect for me and will allow me to bring my skillset and expertise to the team. I've been following the work that your company has been doing and admire the high standards that it holds itself to. With my knowledge of JavaScript, React.js, Express, Node.js, PostgreSQL, HTML5, and CSS3, and my extensive background in Quality Assurance, which taught me to be meticulous about my work, I am confident that I will contribute to the continued success of your company.

I designed and developed a mobile-first Digital Pantry web app that allows the user to keep track of their groceries and pantry storage digitally. The app is a full-stack app built from the ground up. I was able to hone my skills and learn many new techniques during the process of designing and building this app.

While working for a manufacturing company, I was a part of an interconnected fast-paced team. Clear communication was the key to being successful in that role. I was selected to be a part of their new database management system training team for my communication skills and technical background.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I'm excited about this opportunity and ready to utilize my experience in development and design along with my passion for building a clean seamless user experience, and your company will help me reach my true potential.

I look forward to speaking with you.

Sincerely, Mahmood Nihad