

Happy Fathers Day

by Skipperdoodle Productions

The kids arrive, as do their dogs.

The eldest and I share a hatful of freshly picked Mulberries as cottonwood spores waft by as do grill aromas.

A circling hawk screams from the ether.

We feast on a beautiful day, and I am grateful beyond measure.