

Room Rules for Classical of any kind! (COAK)

Welcome to Classical of any kind! This room is strictly for classical music of any era (Early music through the Modern Era) and both instrumental and vocal (yes, that includes opera) works are welcome. Modern Era music can get pretty out there, and anything from Cage's 4'33" to Reich's "It's Gonna Rain" to computer music is acceptable. Feel free to tell us the composer's name if it is not already listed in the track info! Here is a list of the top 100 classical pieces if you're interested in knowing what gets a lot of play time already:

<http://www.kickassclassical.com/classical-music-popular-famous-best-top-100-list.html>

If you are looking for a classical music room that doesn't allow the Pops stuff, please come by COAK without the Pop! (WARNING - clicking on this will exit you from Classical of any Kind and put you in our other room):

http://turntable.fm/coak_without_the_pop_read_info

Like us on Facebook!

<http://www.facebook.com/pages/Classical-of-any-Kind-on-turntablefm/180347792039106?sk=wall>

Our Forum (Thanks Bubs!):

<http://bubble.boards.net/index.cgi#turntable>

Moderators: Please respect what the moderators have to say; they are familiar with the rules and will fairly enforce them. If you are granted mod powers, please be up to date on these rules.

Time limit per track: 25 minutes is basically our top limit. Yes that's a long time, but it's classical music; it tends to be long. If you have something longer and can get the majority of the other DJ's to agree with your playing it, go for it! Please ask first before launching into your tracks that are longer than 25 minutes.

DJ Queue and DJ limits: If there is an open spot, please ask if it is spoken for before you jump up there, as there may be an agreed upon line in place already. Currently there is no limit on how long you can DJ for, but it's in good taste to step down if you've been up there a while and others have stated that they would like to DJ as well. Idle DJ's will be removed from the stand after 30 minutes of inactivity. If you are multitasking, please check back in every now and then by either saying something or hitting the awesome/lame button so we know you're alive, thanks!

The following types of music ARE allowed here on top of your typical classical:

Movie and Game Music - Try to keep these tracks to those that contain real instruments that need no amplification. That also means no midi instruments please. Don't get offended if the audience finds your selection too non-classical...

The following types of music ARE NOT allowed here:

Instrumental covers of rock, pop, indie, new age, etc. - The fact that something is being played by an orchestra, piano, string quartet, or whatever typical classical grouping of instruments does not make it classical music. Similarly, having Pavarotti sing alongside Bono with U2 does not suddenly make that music classical either. Classical is a style of composition, not an instrumentation. The Vitamin String Quartet falls into this category.

Crossover - This one is a little bit more flexible, but basically if something has a back beat and your standard amplified instruments (electric guitar, electric bass, etc) then it's not for this room. So, no, the Trans-Siberian Orchestra does not fly here.

If you play off-genre music in this room, you will be either removed from the DJ stand or booted. Repeat offenders will be booted repeatedly, resulting in temporary bans as per Turntable.fm's ban procedures, and most likely a permanent ban from the room. If you are being abusive verbally, you will be warned. If you continue to do so, you will be booted and banned. Basically, please just keep it clean and in the realm of classical, and we'll all have a good time!