

These Three Letters Of The Alphabet Will Generate $$$ For Your Business.

While practicing my marketing on the battlefield... I got hit by some powerful advice while laying in the trenches with my marketing & sales professor...

Right before he bled out, he whispered "CTA" in my ear before he sadly passed on into the afterlife and turned off his VR glasses.

It was a one hit kill game and when you died... it was over...

"Cta"... Those words haunted me until I discovered what it meant 5 minutes after my head got blown off by a dual shotgun wielding naked zombie cat.

The Company Outing That Changed My Business For (The) Good $

After I took off the VR glasses and violently reached for my own head, that was luckily still attached to my body, I saw the professor talking to the other 'dead guys' (My colleagues) at a big round table with some beers on it.

I decided to join in and have fun with the boys while "CTA" was still haunting my brain like the boogeyman from that horror movie 'Sinister'.

After the fun was over and everyone was grabbing their coats to leave, I asked the professor why his last words were CTA.

He sobered up immediately and his red cheeks vanished like a chameleon falling in love with a caucasian branch and absorbing its colors.

"You remembered? Let's go for a walk."

Even though the alcohol was accelerating in my bloodstream, I decided to walk with him and this walk changed my view on business forever...

He explained CTA so well, even a drunk could understand it.

And yes, that's why I still remember it....

$ “Call To Action” $

“Collin, CTA means call to action and it is the reason our business is doing so well.

Let’s say, you are a marketer. Our job is to get new customers for any business we want to help grow.

What if you could decide the actions a customer takes?”

“To control someone? Like a Necromancer that controls the dead in video games?” I asked in a very curious, enthusiastic and almost nerdy manner.

He smacked me right across the face for that remark...

I still feel the sting until this day.

“Video games are lame, be a man.” He said, while looking like a stud (in the most hetero sexual way possible).

I wanted to punch back, but it would cost me my job and I knew he was right... Sh*t...

“But yes Collin, you can control other humans. This is the power of the CTA, And when used properly, it will make you and your business millions of dollars.”

Implementing These Three Letters In An Step-By-Step Action Plan $$$

To step in the shoes of my professor and explain how I used it to my success, is an honor which I don’t want to take for granted in any way, shape or form.

I absolutely want to explain this to the very best of my ability and I made very sure I did exactly that.

I made a free, simple to follow, guide that will tell you step by step ‘HOW you can implement CTA into your business’ and trust me when I say this:

It will absolutely surpass any results you are getting right now.

So get yourself a gaming pc because the normal ones are going to explode!

Just kidding ;)
