	I have been teaching for over 30 years. I teach with the Sogetsu series of textbooks, which guide students through basic styles and into more creative thematic ikebana. The ultimate goal is to express one's creativity. Classes may contain students on different levels, and students learn at their own pace. Especially for virtual students, I like to meet with them before they start, to explain what supplies they will need and what materials are better for beginners.
