

Turnabout Crimson Manor

Hello, and welcome to this case doc! This case, as part of The Great Casing Era Group's case list, is objection.lol customized. AO players, beware.

If your casing group has decided to case this and got any of the results below, shoot the creator a friend request and/or a DM for him to update it!

I would also be happy to receive constructive criticism and feedback on how the case went for you. (I am also inside Untitled Courtroom, so feel free to ping me there too if you prefer!)

Final sidenote - the time of death being exactly 21:09 and not an estimate is a thematic choice, and the fact that it is not an estimate should not be brought up.

With that said, enjoy!

CASE LENGTH: Short

CASE DIFFICULTY: 3/10

WITNESS DOC - DEFENSE DOC - PROSECUTION DOC

Guilty	Not Guilty	Truth	Mistrial	Disaster
[0]	[0]	[6 (1)]	[0]	[0]

Summary

In the verse of @orel2109's Ace Attorney OCs, a few years after Turnabout WizzoRee (which you should go play before this one if you haven't already!), another murder occurs, this time behind closed doors. The Crimson Sorcerer (also known as Orel) invited a guest in the form of Binah Culars to a late-evening dinner in his fully crimson-colored manor. That dinner proved to be deadly, as a minute after the victim ate her meal, she died!

Defense	Vs.	Prosecution

Defense Lead/Co-counsel/Support counsel	Prosecution Lead/Co-counsel/Support counsel

Neutral

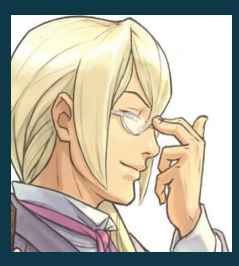

Judge	Stenographer

To The Top

To The Top

Profiles + Order	The defendant CAN testify, but on the condition that both the detective and the witness finish talking first. The judge should agree to ONE testimony if the defense is grasping at straws. Witness order is established by the order below, and the detective must be called before the first witness. The detective may be called after the initial testimony with probable cause (unless for filler talks). Profiles and testimonies can be used as evidence (statements made post-testimony or examinations don't count), so make sure to note important details.

Defendant			Victim
	Name	Occupation		Name	Occupation
	The Crimson Sorcerer (Orel)	Magician / Illusionist		Binah Culars	Chess Grandmaster
	Additional Information			Additional Information
	• One of the most famous magicians in Japanifornia. His tricks mainly include saying things 'in red' that come true, fitting his nickname. • It is rumored that he got his wealth and 'red speech' from an obscure deal with a certain golden witch. • Confessed to being jealous of the victim being better at chess than him, but vehemently denies killing her for it. • Random fun trivia: He is also Roquet's (WizzoRee victim's son) private tutor for all things magic. Kind of his side gig to teach kids for fun!			• Orel's pal from high school. A strong chess player with a very high libido. • W:L record against Orel: 21:1

Detective/Lead Investigator			First Witness
	Name	Occupation		Name	Occupation
	K-Cid Shoegum	Detective		KrisTUFF Gavin	TCS's Personal Butler
	Additional Information			Additional Information
	• K-Cid Shoegum… the rizzler… The your mom-erer, and Gumshoe's weirdly identical cousin. • Lead investigator of this case. • After Fae's murder case, he got his salary raised!			• After being on the run from the police for years as an esteemed criminal with many charges and ties to the criminal underworld, KrisTUFF took refuge inside Orel's quiet manor, serving his needs for relatively good pay.

To The Top

Evidence

Evidence in a green box is considered relevant evidence. Evidence in a red box is considered irrelevant. If accepted by the Court, the evidence box's color will be changed to green.

Autopsy Report

Time of Death	Cause of Death
21:09	(Suspected) Poisoning

Additional Information

- Forensics suspect a poison was used, one strong enough that it partially melted and blackened Binah Culars's organs from the inside. However, they did not find a match in their database by comparing the poisons they do have and the effects on the victim (they did not check anything in the actual food except for gases or mold).
- There are no visible injuries on the victim's body, but the autopsy discovered her insides are completely mashed up.
- The death occurred nearly instantaneously, seemingly a minute after the victim took a bite out of her food.

Image	Name	Description
	Invitation	• An invitation from The Crimson Sorcerer to the victim, his writing being confirmed. Was found folded in the victim's pocket. It reads: "Long time no see, Ms. Culars! I invite you to dinner at 8:50 PM, together with a whimsical challenge to raise the stakes… one more chess match after these 20 humiliating losses. And to sweeten the deal, the winner gets ownership rights to my manor! - Best regards, The Crimson Sorcerer."
	Juicy Turkey	• Found on the table next to the defendant. The turkey is mostly eaten. The main course of the meal. The salad contains lettuce, tomatoes, and smooth-looking peppercorns scattered across with other seasonings.
	Raspberry Pie	• Found on the table next to the victim. Partially eaten… The dessert of the meal. Contains pre-bought pie dough, fresh raspberries from Orel's supplier, and absolutely no glass.
	Newspaper Article	• A newspaper article about Orel's rise to fame. It reads: "From Orphan to Crimson Celebrity - After surprising the entire world with extensively elaborate illusions, The Crimson Sorcerer opens his new manor's doors in a wild twist! Declaring: 'Since I don't have anyone to inherit my stuff to, and since Japanifornia will put my house on sale if I die, I will be a bit bold… Whoever can surprise me with their own elaborate illusion by the time my life ends, gets my residence!'" • It seems nobody surprised him for a few years, since this article dates back a few years into the past.
	Plates	• TCS's plate: Traces of turkey meat and pie were found on it. • Binah Culars's plate: Traces of turkey meat were found on it. Unfinished salad covers the rest of the plate. • Each plate has its respective eater's fingerprints and KrisTUFF's glove prints.
	Chessboard	• Found on another table together with a clock set on the 'bullet' chess setting (2-minute game at most.) Binah was white, TCS was black, judging from recent fingerprints. Black's king is completely surrounded, and the rest of his pieces were eaten by the time white checkmated him. Needless to say, a humiliating loss.

Opening Statement

Make your own! Though here are some things to focus on:

- Motive: Jealousy for one-upping him in chess 21 games while he only won 1, with the last of them making him lose his manor to her.
- Method: An untraceable poison, apparently.
- Opportunity: It's his manor and his dinner invitation. Only TCS, Binah Culars, and KrisTUFF were at the mansion at the time of the incident, judging by the witness list.

To The Top

To The Top

Testimony #1

Name
Occupation
Intro

>	Witness Testimony	Cross-Examination
1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11

Requests	Findings
Defense's Requests: 1. Prosecution's Requests: 1.	For the Defense: 1. For the Prosecution: 1.

Miscellaneous

To The Top

Testimony #2

Name
Occupation
Intro

>	Witness Testimony	Cross-Examination
1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10

Miscellaneous

To The Top

Testimony #3

Name
Occupation
Intro

>	Witness Testimony	Cross-Examination
1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12

Miscellaneous

To The Top

Testimony #4

Name
Occupation
Intro

>	Witness Testimony	Cross-Examination
1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10

Miscellaneous

To The Top

Testimony #5

Name
Occupation
Intro

>	Witness Testimony	Cross-Examination
1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11

Testimony #6

Testimony #7

Testimony #8

To The Top

Summation & Verdict

Summation	The editing of this section is only allowed by the Case Maker.

Defense	Prosecution

Verdict

NOT GUILTY

GUILTY

MISTRIAL

To The Top

Stenographer's Tools

Name
Occupation
Intro	"..."

-- ... --

>	Witness Testimony	Cross-Examination
1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10

Miscellaneous

	Name	Occupation		Name	Occupation
	Additional Information			Additional Information

Style

Normal
Defense
Prosecution
Judge
Stenographer
Witness
Evidence

To The Top