

The Refill House — Common Good Ingredient Guide

The refills carried by The Refill House are manufactured by Common Good, a company focused on plant-based, biodegradable, refillable home and body products. Common Good states that their products are vegan, cruelty-free, and made without phthalates, parabens, dyes, synthetic fragrance, or isothiazolinones.

Important Note: The ingredient information below was compiled from publicly available Common Good product pages and retailer listings. Some exact refill-box formulas were not fully published online at the time this guide was created. Please confirm with Common Good or SDS sheets before using for formal allergen or regulatory disclosures.
