The Easton Urban Farm operates on a 3/4 acre plot in Easton's South Side neighborhood. We are a community-based effort of The Neighborhood Center, and are supported by a strong group of local volunteers and Lafayette College Students. Our mission is to encourage residents to access healthy food through purchase, cultivation, and sharing. Our produce is distributed through organizations in the city, including food pantries and farm stands. Email us if you want to learn more.

There are a couple sections requesting contact information. The “Primary Contact” section is a section only I can see from the backend, so please be sure to fill that out with whichever contact info is best for me to use when trying to get in touch with you. We are working on updating the backend with some more instructions so things like this are more clear. Thank you!

For Local Foods Guide publication:

- We are pulling some of this updated information for the Local Foods Guide publication. To help with this process, please try and keep the first paragraph of your description to about 45 words and with the most important info so we can focus on pulling that for the print. Feel free to expand in other paragraphs on the website profile.
- If you are happy with the last guide, let us know.
- Please be sure to indicate whether you accept SNAP and purchase wholesale.

5. Make sure you hit “Update Profile” at the bottom of the page or the check at the top to save changes. Refresh the page and return to your profile to see updates from the front end (how consumers/other people will see it).

6. Please, let me know when you have updated your profile, so I can mark you off as complete or if you're having any trouble.

Thank you!
