Camps	When you are looking at a ten-week long summer, you may want at least one week to be planned for you. There are a variety of camps offered each week in our area. Most camps provide before and after care for parents who work outside of the home and many can be half or full-day. Half-day camps cost less and still give your child the benefit of skill-building, and socialization with peers. Although camps can be expensive, scholarships are available. https://www.columbiaassociation.org/membership/membership-programs/ https://www.ymcamn.org/scholarships
