What specific information was of greatest value to you? Using technology to level the playing field for multilingual learners

Skyward

Low Cost STEM

Canva

Computational Thinking

Skyward, Social Media & Mental Health, and Assistive Technology

Social Media

Google Slides information

I Thought the seminar on Social Media and its effects on students was outstanding. Gavin Lees did an excellent job presenting this information. Every staff member district wide should go through that training.

drawing and canva

The information on Canva and eSports.

Learning how to help our ML learners

I really enjoyed learning about WeVideo. This session gave me ideas for how I might use WeVideo for student projects and give another option than a presentation.

CANVA

how great tech can help students, as well as, the the dangers of tech.

all applicable - terrific

Many uses of tech to integrate into my classroom

I especially enjoyed my first morning session (unlocking the new chromebook) lots of useful tools to become more efficient in the classroom. The other session I thought was highly beneficial was (mental health and social media) Dopamine is a real thing and wow, it has a huge impact on our brains when engulfed in social media.

Learning about snap & read and co-write

Google Sheets and Canvas

the social media class

7 Taps was a great way to present background information.

The key note speaker was excellent. applying game theory and tactics to classroom and kids is so helpful

Morning Meeting class

AI and Canva

Digital Art with Google Drawing

I enjoyed all of the classes but I really enjoyed learning about using technology for multi language learners

I loved Canva and can't wait to use it!

I really loved Canva and Kami as far as online learning resources for myself and students. I enjoy the Low Cost/Low Prep STEM activities class as well. The keynote speaker was very engaging.

Loved Gavin's presentation on Social Media and Amy's presentation on Canva!

Social Media and mental health

I loved the information on social media and its impact on mental health. I think this would be great to share with parents as well.

Learning about the social media and mental health connection

CANVA!

Google Draw! I cannot wait to use it in my classroom. Also the cheap and easy stem ideas.

Having students present during the student news class

I liked that all of the information is doable and I can manage it, esp. that I am not techie, at all.

Session on PearDeck

Media

I learned about tools that I can pass along to my students to help them be more successful.

Hands on learning, practicing what we were learning

Skyward session

All workshops

I really loved all of it and all the classes I picked out. Mostly the tech for ML learners and also the canva course.

The tutorial on Qmlative and how to navigate and personal it

Canva for Beginners was great. It was very crowded and sitting on the floor isn't that great for this old lady, but I made it work. I just couldn't really see the screen so I used my chromebook to look at her slides and tried really hard to listen. I also enjoyed the Low Cost/No Cost STEM Activities session too, and it was also crowded because the class I'd signed up for was cancelled and I took that one last minute, along with the other people that came that she wasn't really ready for since I signed up for that one this morning.

Information about how social media is affecting students

Social Media and Mental Health gave a good incite into how social media affects us all.
