

Introducing Fyrus Pro

The cryptocurrency markets have experienced fast continuous growth for the recent years, with billions in combined market capital and thousands of digital assets. There is an unprecedented demand for financial services that the industry is currently missing or could not provide.

To service this need of traders, investors and startups, Fyrus is creating the next generation crypto-to-crypto exchange platform Fyrus Pro. Fyrus Pro is a secure, transparent and community driven exchange platform that traders and investors can trust and be a part of. The exchange will come with many perks, such as having a decentralized governance model, low to no fees, low cost listing, fast transactions, full-fledged open API, and a reward model that gives back to the community.

Our Vision: To Build A Community

Throughout the conceptualization, designing, and prototyping phases of the Fyrus Pro platform, a strong emphasis has been placed on creating a community centered exchange platform. As such, many of the features present demonstrates this community first approach. This includes having a decentralized governance, state-of-the-art reporting, a high set of quality control standards, and our specially pioneered token allocation and voting mechanism.
