Elaborations below

Property

Property is a very touchy subject. Most problems on the server are caused by disrespecting one's property (47% of bans and majority of conflicts on the server). Property works on a first come, first serve basis. If it is obvious that a player has built in an area first, it belongs to them. In order to prevent someone from saying, "well I didn't know someone was building there"(yes, this has happened before), build a pillar that announces your claim. You could also make a noticable build in that area.

-claims in game have a priority over claims in discord because not all players are in our discord.

-If Player Z builds too close to Player X's build, Player X can request for Player Z to move away. The moderators will decide what will happen from there.

-Areas that cannot be claimed include the main end island, spawn, and the nether hub, and nether highways.

-Although it is not a rule, it would be nice if natural end portals are available for the public

-In order to unclaim an area, the owner can state in discord that they are giving up the property, or place a sign in the area stating the same thing. If the player is unable to be contacted, and the claim is nothing more than a pillar and signs, after three weeks the claim is invalid.

-Players vandalizing claimed areas are subject to punishment (depending on severity)

-A player can be restricted from an area if the moderators deem it appropriate. If a player enters a restricted area, they are allowed to be killed by the owner of the area.

-Containers are private unless if it is marked as public. This does not apply to ender chests.

-The 4 main nether highways (North, South, East, West) are public. private tunnels can be constructed that intersect with the main highway. Diagonal nether highways (Northwest, Northeast, Southwest, Southeast) are also public.

Mods/Hacks

-Optifine is allowed

-All mods that display information, such as nether fortress regions, potion effects, and a hologram of builds are allowed.

-Mods that play the game for you, such as baritone, are not allowed.

-Using hacked clients is not allowed, even if you are only using the parts that are allowed on the server.

-Using simple autohotkey or other clicker scripts is allowed, except AFKing at the ender mender for an extended period of time (+20 mins) with these scripts is not allowed, since it disallows others from using the farm.

-Using any type of x-ray will result in a "confrontation". Depending on how the confrontation goes, you may lose all of your diamonds, or be banned.

Chat

-Spam is not allowed

-Starting drama is not allowed

-inappropriate language is allowed if it is appropriate, BUT excessive swearing/vulgar terms can result in a temporary mute if told to chill, and no chill occurs.

-Do not disrespect other players

Discord

-Discord follows the same chat rules as the minecraft server. Bans may immediately be issued for the discord.

-No NSFW content

Moderators

-As a moderator, it is your job to make sure everyone follows the rules

-Just because you are a moderator doesn't mean you have special privileges. You are expected to follow all rules.

-It is your job to deal with new players.

-If a player is using x-ray and you can't confirm, ask another mod to take a look. If there is evidence beyond a reasonable doubt, you can "confront" the player. Ask if the player is x-raying. If they lie, ban them. If they tell the truth, warn them not to do it again, post about it in the punishment channel, and confiscate all of their diamonds. If x-rayed items were used to create equipment, you can also confiscate them.

-Abusing moderator powers can result in a demotion.

Miscellaneous

-PvP must be agreed upon by both players/groups.

-The food around spawn is free as long as you replant it.
