

Tuatara

By Kauri

Introduction

Is that a lizard ,NO,It's not in fact It is a Tuatara

Classification

Tuataras are rare medium sized Reptiles found only in New Zealand. Tuataras are living dinosaurs and lizards are not.They are recognized internationally and within New zealand as Tuatara species in need of active conservation management.Tuatara and chameleon are both in the Reptile family,Same as a Snake and a Turtle but not a Frog.Tuataras are cold blooded.Tuataras are very scaly reptiles they are very, very extraordinary Animals.

Location

Tuataras live in off shore islands and only found in New zealand.

Description

Tuataras have these soft,flexible spikes and spines.

Dynamics

Tuataras dig barrow and puts Its eggs inside