

What is a Memory?

By Madelyn Dolch

A memory that makes me cry is Aunt Andrea. I miss her because she lives in Mississippi.

A memory is something that makes me warm like my color of my sweatshirt. It is purple and white.

A memory from long ago is my baby picture.

A memory that makes me laugh is my dogs because they jump from one couch to another couch.

A memory as precious as gold is my grandma and my mom and Andrea.
