

In order to gain your mTiny GH Badge, you need to create your own Bloxels challenge. You already know a ton about mTiny, but you may have wondered what else you can do with them. This is your chance. Here are your guidelines.

- Mr. Dunlap must approve your project before you start, but you may want to explore options before you dream up your project.
- This project should take you between one and three weeks for research, exploration, building, and creating.
- You need to create a digital presentation (slide show, video, etc) to display your project to the class.
