SIGNAL GENESYS TM

About Us

Our founders started and built a 7-Figure Digital Marketing Agency. Press Releases were a foundational solution offered to businesses as part of web presence, search visibility, SEO and brand marketing campaigns. After using many different PR services, we decided to develop an all white-label, agency-driven PR platform with specific features, functions and pricing to help other marketing agencies and resellers around the globe build press releases and PR marketing into a serious revenue channel with unmatched features in a PR platform.

4. Quantum Distribution

Signal Genesys's distribution footprint reaches millions of viewers and readers including the new Voice Search Ecosystem with Alexa and Google Assistant. And unlike our competitors, our press release pickups stay live for at least 90 days and in most cases, forever, vs the industry average of 30 days and flush. This may seem like a small detail but when you use Signal Genesys you get 3X, 10X even 100X+ the traffic, views plus better results in Google. Every published article on the Quantum Engine is permanently archived on a public archive site. With major media and voice search distribution combined with permanently immortalizing your content in multiple channels and methods and you get a quantum leap in your results.

5. Live Google Map Display on Media Sites

Our direct Google Maps API integration is an industry-first. Your client's Google My Business listing will be pushed live through API calls to display the Google Map of the GMB listing on the live media sites. This is accomplished through individual, live API calls on each media site, NOT through embed code. The signal authority and outcome of the way our strategy is executed produces significantly better outcomes in map pack rankings.

6. Proper Sourcing and Attribution

Get the maximum reach and mileage out of each press release published and distributed through the proprietary sourcing and attribution feature on Signal Genesys. All press releases published on the Signal Genesys platform are instantly published to the source/target site FIRST creating a permanent archive of your press release on the target site. From there our content engine pings Google Search Console to tag the source article as the canonical on the target site. Our software then distributes to the media sites while properly and explicitly tagging the permalink URL on the target site as the original source. Signal Genesys then creates a permanent archive of each live pickup with dynamic linking back to the source article. These permanent archives of each pickup dynamically link back to your original publication on the target site creating a quantum leap in your authority around each press release.
