Dear Parents and Carers,

I recently completed a social media post about my visit to St Osmund's Middle School. It is always fascinating to visit another school and discuss the experiences of young people. Many schools, like St Osmund's, are training their staff in areas that we are also focusing on, so it's always valuable to share good practice and reflect on ideas shared by another school. These ideas could link to particular needs or even how to push our confident and talented learners.

I feel that professional development is often hidden from the wider community. Our staff are continually attending courses and meetings to evolve alongside changes in education. Some of the areas we are focusing on include: Health and Safety, Leadership, Supporting Pupils with SEND, Navigating speech and language needs, I Can Problem Solve, Managing Complex Needs in the Classroom, Connecting the Curriculum, Ogden Trust Science, Healthy Movers, Building relationships with children, Early Years training, Supporting children with Autism in the classroom, Understanding Behaviour.

All these things are planned in advance to help us understand children more and best support all learners at Cheselbourne Village School.

Enjoy your weekend and I'll see you next week,

Mr C Perry - Mr C. Perry (Headteacher)
