

Darian: He is a little bit skinny, depressed and ugly. I would imagine him with a light chin recession and long hair that sorta covers his eyes, he likes anime and video games and is a super cool otaku weeb! He would always be bitter and angry with those around him as well as pessimistic, He would also live in a Me and Them world with no Us in sight. When he gets his powers he becomes somewhat vengeful towards those he feels have done him wrong. He would also be alt right and based due to his internet adventures.

Mom/Sharron: She would be about a woman in her 40s concerned with her fading beauty and would be a bit of a well.... Female dog... She is always looking for a way to demean other women to cover up her insecurities. She is also very cruel and whatnot. Basically she's a witch!

Dad/Andrew: He's a lazy and depressed flirty salary man who doesn't love his wife all that much anymore as her beauty has fled from her. Although he doesn't mind taking what he can get. He takes his frustration out on other people including Darian and shaming him and emasculating him. He is also very fit for his age of 50!

Mr. Wyatt: A bloated fat old man aka the typical principle of a school, he kind of looks like bloated walter white from breaking bad with his goatee and fading hairline! Hey almost like my teacher Mr Hayes! Anyways he is a loser who likes to bully and demean the kids to feel powerful but also because he thinks it will make the schools grades better as the school he runs is full of idiots.

Mr. Jocean: A kind man in his late 30s. He is a Tulpa user and a level 2 reality bender. He is very caring of his students and he promised to never use his powers again but Darian was an exception.

Demarcus: A minor character and one of Darians associates, he is a bit of a scrapper and a daring delinquent who often hangs around teen no lifes and tries to get Darian to hang out with him and smoke weed and get into trouble. He also stands up for Darian showing his kind character.

Jackson: An online friend of Darrians who actually lives in Darrians town! He is somewhat of an alt right nazi, oh yeah he has blonde hair and blue eyes! Although he isn't really a nazi he just plays as one to be edgy. He is also a big computer nerd!

Godfrey: A confused Magiswordsman whom came from a time portal who wants to go back to his timeline. He is very mean to those around him so he doesn't get attached to them and so they grow a disdain for him, as his history of being an elite magic swordsman has left him traumatized.

Hate: Darrians Tulpa made from his own suffering and despair! Doesn't talk a whole lot and is very edgy and spooky.

Organization, The OIU: The OIU (Occult Incidents Unit) is a unit within the FBI that deals with supernatural beings and people. Our notable members will be part of the K squad. JJ: An elite sniper. Margo: A head gunman and strong woman! [she is over 6 feet tall as well]. Kuro: The demolitionist. And Hormon: Who is a Wizard from another timeline bound to this world.

Pedal Edge: Mr. Joceans Tulpa name, because of his Tulpas sharp edges on its hands similar to that of pedals use to cut holes in the fabric of reality and make portals.

Ms. Linda: Some minor English teacher who put Darian in the counselors office and is worried that he will do something terrible, she's also a Wiccan.

Raven: The ultimate teen edgelord! (Not my self insert at all!) He's is a half human half Deamon who can turn into a werewolf like creature. He is a troubled soul who would never run from a conflict.

Arcain: A trickster magician not of the current world, he is the captain of squad 6 of the OIU he can be rude and bossy but he always get the job done. In his 30's and buff asf fr fr.

Amelda: A female hemomancer whom uses blades of her blood, Yes despite being a cool hemomancer she is of this world. She is in her 20s and had hot red hair. I would imagine her being a mean brash woman.

Also note, anyone not of this world from now on so characters like Arcain and Godfrey will be known as "Wavers" now Wavers are people who were summoned by a subdivision of the OIU research force known as the Time Breakers who wanted to screw around with time and the fabric of reality for their own gains and have figured out how to summon some of the most powerful occultist throughout time. Although these summoning events would sometimes leave little fractures in time explaining how Godfrey entered this world by accident along with Ronald the not so great.

Mericana: A Waver in his teens who commands his own company of men for Squad 6. He will be a minor character so he doesn't really matter and I plan to have him killed in the book in some skirmish.

Zach: OUI magic-gunman soldier under the command of Mericana, I imagine him being a low ranking voice of reason and quite cowardly, sadly he is injured in a skirmish and becomes a replacement for Mericana after his death. He will have awesome cyborg powers.

Grimace: She is a short dark haired goth/emo/grunge chick and she goes to Darians school and has an interest in occult things and is friends with Ms.Linda as they share a similar interest. Darian being a sucker for goth girls developed a crush on her.

Shaun Sean: Yes that is his name, his parents could do absolutely no better. He is a loser in the same position as Darian and I imagine him telling us from his perspective what is going on at the school while Darian is away becoming a sort of copy of him. I'm thinking of making him me in a sense by having his view of the story be mine? It's hard to explain but I would imagine him being me as in he would be my body I would interact with the story within first person? So whenever he did something his dialogue would be like "I ran into the school bathroom" or "I could not believe my eyes" or something like that. He would be alt right goth girl lover ultra weeb loser on an incel forum. Basically my true self insert

Ronald The Not So Great: A normal knight whom was summoned to our world by accident as he went through a time rift caused by a summoning ritual by the Time Breakers at OIU. His swordsmanship is absolutely terrible and he will be seen as a joke character along with Shaun Sean. Basically being his 5 dollar Godfrey.
